Senator Johnson Opens Fight On London Naval Treaty

PLANNING TO CALL MANY WITNESSES

Move Is Made to Block Any Early Consideration of Pact Before Senate REVEALS HIS HAND

Two Rear Admirals Appear Before Board and Make Hot Attacks on Plans

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(UP)—Senator Johnson, Republican, California, leading opponent of the London naval treaty, moved today to block early consideration of the treaty by the senate as demanded by President Hoover.

Johnson, who proved his fighting qualities as one of the little group of irreconcilables in the fight against the League of Nations 10 years ago, announced today that he intended to call 14 or 15 more witnesses in the senate's investigations. This would delay the treaty to such an extent that observers saw the possibility it might not come before the senate at all this session.

"My purpose," Johnson said, "is to call enough witnesses to make it perfectly plain to everyone what this treaty is."

Johnson revealed his hand after continued hearings today before two senate committees, which further emphasized the difference of opinion among naval officers and which revolved a good deal today, as before about its effect upon United States naval strength in the Pacific in case of a war with Japan.

The treaty was attacked vigorously by Rear Admirals J. M. Reeves, a member of the navy general board, and Frank H. Schofield, a technical expert at the 1922 Washington conference, while it was warmly defended by Rear Admirals William A. Moffett, chief of the navy's bureau of aeronautics, and A. J. Hepburn, chief of staff of the United States fleet.

One of Moffett's principal arguments for the treaty was that it would halt Japanese building, and that without it Japan will outbuild America. Moffett then made this very significant statement:

"In order to have success in a war with Japan we would have to have twice as much sea power as now."

He was asked if a five-three ratio would give the United States protection.

"No," he replied, "but it is important to get Japan stopped. Unless we have a limitation we cannot get this country to build up the navy."

Old Beer Days Recalled In U. S. Decision

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Memories of pre-Prohibition days, of beer-with-a-kick—and Al Smith's presidential campaign of 1928, were brought back today in a decision of the United States patent office as to the use of "East Side" as a trade mark for malt syrup, near beer and fruit juices.

The patent office held that the Los Angeles Brewing Company, of Los Angeles, had the right to use "East Side" as its trade name for malt syrup and other products, and prohibited the use of that name by Delfino Damonte, of Oakland, Calif.

ISSUE IN CASE OF RECORD IS PRESS LIBERTY

M'Adoo Comments on Contempt Case Against Los Angeles Paper

LOS ANGELES, May 22.—(UP)—The issue in the hearing of three executives of the Los Angeles Record on charges of contempt of court for editorials and cartoons concerning the handling of the Julian Petroleum corporation cases, "transcends petty political considerations," in the opinion of William Gibbs McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, who heads the defense counsel.

The hearing is scheduled for June 2.

The citation, naming H. B. R. Briggs, publisher, Gilbert Brown, editor, and Rodney Brink, managing editor, was based on an affidavit of the Los Angeles Bar association. Each of the 13 specific instances related to a cartoon or editorial published while District Attorney Burton Fitts was before the grand jury with the Julian investigation.

SPRING BLIZZARD STRIKES COLORADO

DENVER, May 22.—(UP)—A spring blizzard, accompanied by a drop in temperature of nearly 55 degrees in less than 12 hours, struck Denver today. It was the second heavy snowfall in six days.

100 LOSE LIVES AS STEAMSHIP BURNS

LONDON, May 22.—(UP)—A dispatch to Lloyd's today said 100 persons were believed to have perished on the Fabre line's French steamship Asia, which caught fire while transporting 1500 Moslem pilgrims from Jeddah and Mecca to Jibouti, on the Gulf of Aden.

OVER 100 JOIN IN SEARCH FOR MISSING JUDGE

Tourist Believed to Have Given Lift Yesterday to Oakland Jurist

OAKLAND, May 22.—(UP)—Search for Edward W. Engs, missing Oakland superior court judge, went further afield today with receipt of information from Woodland that a tourist believed he had given the man a lift late yesterday.

J. C. Musgrove, of Woodland, telephoned police early today to say he had given a man a ride from Yolo to Berlin and that the man tallied with the description of Judge Engs.

The man had told Musgrove he suffered from loss of memory and was on his way to Portland where he expected to find friends who would help him regain his memory.

While this latest clue was being checked, searchers dragged the floor of Lake Merritt, in the heart of Oakland, and Lake Temescal, the shores of which Judge Engs often walked.

Sonoma county authorities searched the Sonoma valley, having been led there by a woman who said she had seen a man answering Engs' description at the junction of Caliente road and valley highway last Friday.

One hundred volunteers are also searching the Berkeley hills.

Judge Engs disappeared from his home early last Thursday at a critical moment during the East Bay graft trial.

Pinchot Leads In Votes For Governorship

Three Philadelphia Papers Concede His Victory Over Francis Brown

PHILADELPHIA, May 22.—(UP)—Gifford Pinchot today held a lead of slightly more than 13,000 over Francis Shunk Brown in their contest in Tuesday's primary for the Republican nomination for governor.

The three Philadelphia morning papers conceded Pinchot's nomination, the Inquirer, which had supported Brown, having announced Pinchot's victory in late editions this morning.

Brown, however, had not conceded his defeat, saying he was in the race until the last vote was counted.

Tabulated Returns

Returns tabulated by the United Press from 3479 of the state's 8701 precincts showed the following:

Pinchot, 617,443.
Brown 604,342.
Pinchot's plurality, 13,101.

The 222 precincts not yet reported embrace 53 in counties where Brown is stronger. The remainder are in Pinchot territory.

This political contest in the state where Republican nomination is virtually equivalent to election developed drama from the moment the vote counting started.

It was a race between two men of the outdoors—Pinchot, the forester, and Brown, the gentleman farmer. Early returns, bolstered by the Philadelphia city vote, where Brown had the backing of the Vaux machine, piled up a lead for him that at noon yesterday stood close to 60,000.

Then the weight of the out-state vote—Pinchot's favorite campaigning ground—began to make itself felt. Slowly the Pinchot ballots cut down the Brown lead with the vote increasing hourly. By 6 p. m. Pinchot crept up to the Brown total, and an hour later shot ahead.

Meanwhile, the returns indicated

START RECALL MOVE AGAINST DETROIT MAYOR

Action Results When Police Commissioner Dismissed by Executive

DETROIT, May 22.—(UP)—(UP)—Detroit's turbulent political troubles, which city officials admit have allowed vice and crime to flourish within the last four months, became more intensified today when a group of business and civic leaders circulated petitions asking for the recall of Mayor Charles Bowles.

The recall movement was the outgrowth of the mayor's action yesterday when he dismissed Harold H. Emmons as police commissioner after Emmons had refused to resign as requested by Bowles.

Thomas C. Wilcox, former U. S. department of justice head here, was appointed to succeed Emmons.

Strife Apparent

Strife has been apparent in the political factions of the city, ever since Bowles was sworn into office four months ago but the situation did not become serious until last Saturday when Emmons investigated a drive to rid the city of its gambling dens while the mayor and other officials were witnessing the Kentucky Derby.

Led by newspaper reporters, who had furnished the addresses of the gambling places, police arrested more than 300 men in a drive Saturday night.

Rumors of a split in the city administration were broadcast immediately and were affirmed Monday when John Gillespie, commissioner of public works, objected to the methods used by Emmons in the drive and told the mayor either he or Emmons would have to go.

Business men of Detroit rallied under the banner of Emmons and called upon Mayor Bowles to retain him as head of the police department. The same stand was taken by the Wayne county Ku Klux Klan organization which supported Bowles in his campaign for mayor.

Navy Head Is Called Today For Opinion

Assistant Secretary Also Says Either Site Will Be Acceptable

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON, May 22.—(UP)—Secretary of the Navy Adams told the House naval affairs committee today he was willing to accept either Camp Kearney or Sunnyvale, Calif., as the site for the new naval dirigible base, although he had previously gone on record as favoring the former location.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—(UP)—Either Camp Kearney or Sunnyvale, Calif., is acceptable to the navy department as the site for its $5,000,000 dirigible base, Assistant Secretary Ernest L. Jahncke told the House naval affairs committee today.

Committee members tried vainly to force Jahncke to take a definite stand favoring one of the two sites, but were successful only in forcing an admission that his opinion was the same as that of Secretary of Navy Adams.

Adams said in a letter to the President, December 4, he favored Camp Kearney because of strategic advantages there, but that either site was acceptable.

"My personal opinion would mean nothing to this committee when it has the chance to obtain views of naval experts who can outline the situation from a practical standpoint," he said.

"I can see no reason for controversy, when the navy department indicates plainly that either site is acceptable."

Chairman Britten took advantage of Jahncke's testimony to indicate his belief that the navy department did not pay enough attention to a report by members of the "West Coast Dirigible board."

This board, including five naval experts, voted 4 to 1 in favor of Sunnyvale.

MENTON NAMED TRIAL DEPUTY BY PROSECUTOR

Santa Ana Attorney Will Assume Office June 1

District Attorney Z. B. West today announced the appointment of W. F. Menton, Santa Ana attorney, as chief trial deputy in his office, to fill a vacancy resulting from the resignation of Deputy District Attorney S. B. Kaufman. Announcement of another appointment to fill the vacancy resulting from the resignation of Assistant District Attorney L. W. Blodgett will be made in a few days, West said.

Menton will assume office on June 1, when Kaufman will join Franklin G. West in law practice here.

West expressed considerable pleasure over the fact that Menton had accepted the appointment. Menton was a deputy district attorney under L. A. West, of Santa Ana, from 1917 to 1920, when West held the office of district attorney.

He also was engaged in private practice with Z. B. West after his service with L. A. West.

As a result of the resignations and the appointment of Menton, Sam L. Collins will become assistant district attorney. Deputy District Attorney Leo Fris will be advanced one step. The appointment anticipated in the near future will be to fill the vacancy left by Fris.

Menton came to Santa Ana in 1907, and passed the bar examination in 1915. He has been practicing law in Santa Ana since that time. Menton worked as a linotype operator for The Register while he was studying law.

FERNANDO, Noronha Island, May 22.—(UP)—The dirigible Graf Zeppelin was sighted at 1:28 p. m. (10:28 a. m., E. S. T.) coming from the north as she approached Brazil at the end of a flight of 3650 miles from Seville.

The Graf flew over the island at 1:53 p. m., passing low as the population thronged the streets and cheered. It continued toward the mainland.

LANDING DELAYED
PERNAMBUCO, (Recife), Brazil, May 22.—(UP)—The Graf Zeppelin informed the Glauca airdrome today that it would arrive here between 6 p. m. and 8 p. m.

"The dirigible was delayed by a storm the message said, and will halt here to refuel."

IN COMMUNICATION
FERNANDO NORONHA ISLAND, May 22.—(UP)—The Graf Zeppelin was in direct radio communication with Fernando Noronha at 7:45 a. m. (4:45 a. m., E. S. T.) today when the dirigible was less than 250 miles from the island.

The Graf Zeppelin reported that it was flying in fair weather and that all was well aboard.

An earlier message from the dirigible said it was 300 miles from the island at 6:25 a. m.

ESTATE OF INCE TOTALS $930,732

LOS ANGELES, May 22.—(UP)—The estate of Thomas Ince, late motion picture producer, has grown to $930,732.54, an increase of $67,732.54 since his death, according to a final accounting on file in probate court today.

It was said that $633,760.51 is ready for distribution between the heirs, including Mrs. Ellen Priscilla Ince Herbert, the widow, and three children.

Mrs. Ince married Holmes Herbert, film actor, last May 3 but it was said she will not be penalized by a clause of the will which specified she lose her inheritance if she married within seven years after Ince's death, as none of the other heirs entered a protest.

The producer died suddenly in December 1924, during a yachting party.

MARINE AIRPLANES TO ATTACK BANDITS

MANAGUA, Nicaragua, May 22.—(UP)—Marine planes were held in readiness here today for possible use against bandits in the mining districts along the east coast of Nicaragua. Unconfirmed reports from that section said bandits were sighted there, although they had so far made no depredations.

Reports of the return to Nicaragua of General Augustino Sandino, who organized bandits into a strong rebel movement last year, have not yet been confirmed, the presidential palace announced.

ALLEEGD POSTAL FRAUD IS UNCOVERED IN SAN BERNARDINO

SAN BERNARDINO, May 22.—(UP)—What authorities described as one of the biggest postal frauds in the history of Southern California was disclosed here today when it was announced by federal and county officials that a group labeling itself as "The Sub-division Improvement Association," with headquarters in San Francisco, had assertedly defrauded hundreds of San Bernardino county residents out of thousands of dollars by illegal use of the mails.

To what extent, financially, the association had succeeded could not be estimated it was said.

Investigation has been started by the district attorney and the postal department under the direction of J. C. Linland, chief postal inspector of the Pacific coast, stationed at San Francisco.

According to the district attorney's office, the group started operations three weeks ago when five girls were sent to the county assessor's office presumably to get names of San Bernardino people for a mailing list in connection with a real estate program.

The names acquired, the company sent out notices warning lot holders in several mountain resort subdivisions that unless a five dollar assessment was paid immediately they would lose their lots, it was charged. The note stated the money was for improvements which were to be immediately placed in the resorts, according to officials.

Hundreds of people, it was said, sent in the amount, while postal inspectors believe that money already in the mails. The plan was first suspected by Charles S. Mann, real estate operator for one of the resorts, who received complaints from clients and buyers of property under his control.

BASEBALL RESULTS

SHIBE PARK, Philadelphia, Pa., May 22.—(UP)—Babe Ruth continued his astounding home-run hitting today.

He made his third homer of the day in the second game of the New York Yankees-Philadelphia Athletics doubleheader. He had hit two home runs in the first game.

It was Ruth's sixth home run in two days—four games—and his 12th homer of the season, tying with Hack Wilson of the Chicago Cubs.

By making his third home run of the day off Jack Quinn in the second inning with the bases empty, Ruth tied another record—six homers in four consecutive games, held by himself and three other players.

200 Escape Death As Fire Destroys Church Property

MILWAUKEE, Wis., May 22.—(UP)—More than 200 orphaned boys and sisters escaped death early today when fire swept a dormitory and church at the St. Aemilian's orphanage in St. Francis, a suburb.

Three young men and a girl, who were driving by the orphanage and saw the fire, were credited with saving the lives of the 190 orphans and 26 sisters who escaped as the flames raced through the dormitory and spread to the church.

The fire still burned long after daybreak and firemen from St. Francis and Milwaukee said the flames probably will not be brought under control before late afternoon.

Bandits Elude Officers After Gun Battle On Highway

CRIPPLED CAR ABANDONED BY FLEEING PAIR

A gun battle along the San Diego highway between Culver's corner and Irvine station, yesterday afternoon, between John Stanton, chief of police of Tustin, and three suspicious men in a big black touring car, resulted in the escape of the three men, after the rear tires had been shot from their machine by the officer, while speeding better than 65 miles an hour.

The men in the machine are believed to have been the same who sometime yesterday morning broke into the Kye Sea Service station, near Katella, robbing a slot machine and stealing a punch board. It was reported.

Deputy Sheriff Steward and Buckles, who were called to the scene, joined Stanton after the men drove their machine into an escape grove and jumped from it, escaping in brush on the ranch. They were followed by their footprints for three miles, to a point near the home of Ralph Mitchell, where they stole an automobile owned by McFadden and Allen, and continued on their way. Stanton reported that he first saw the men when they drove through Tustin. They were going at a terrific rate of speed, and he gave chase. He drove alongside their machine for several hundred yards, blowing his siren for them to stop, but the driver merely increased the speed. Stanton then opened fire on the fleeing car, and managed to puncture the rear tires with bullets. The men then turned their car into an orchard and, when it slowed down, jumped from it and ran.

In the abandoned car, which officers said bore the wrong license plates, they found a number of slugs from a slot machine and other evidence that the men were the same who robbed the service station.

FRANCE STILL SUNBATHING

Sunbathing promises to be as popular in France this year as before. Since Easter the number of those basking in the sun's rays at Riviera resorts has continued to grow. A special costume for the purpose has just appeared. It consists of a sleeveless striped flannel coat reaching well below the knees, which is worn wrapped closely around the figure and resembles a sleeveless tennis wrap. For sunbathing this garment is quickly removed, disclosing underneath a wee kilt of the same material with a sleeveless open-necked silk jumper tucked in under the waist belt.

START RECALL MOVE AGAINST DETROIT MAYOR

and a month ago wrote him a letter asking that he fulfill his campaign pledge of ridding the city of crime. Bowles' answer was the dismissal of Emmons.

Series of Raids

In appointing Wilcox to take Emmons' position, Mayor Bowles told Wilcox that he was expected to give Detroit a law and order administration unparalleled in the city's history. Wilcox's first duties were to stage a series of raids early today in which more than 40 persons, half of them women, were arrested.

Following Emmons' formal dismissal yesterday the business and civic leaders organized for the recall movement. The petitions will require some 7,000 signatures before a "yes or no" vote on whether Bowles is to be retained as mayor is submitted to the electorate.

According to the American Bar association, crime costs the United States more than $13,000,000,000 a year.

"The forces of clean government have won," he said. "Every worker for honest government shares the credit and the glory. As nominee of the Republican party, I am profoundly grateful."

In event of a Pinchot victory, it was reported here that an anti-prohibition candidate would be placed in the field in view of the vote polled by the "wet" candidates—Thomas W. Phillips' total vote is expected to reach 260,000 and Bohlen's 234,000.

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT

Do not be discouraged because your youthful enthusiasm has faded a bit. The glow of its embers still warms your heart. Experience inevitably alters the terms in which you visualize your hopes, but their inmost truth persists and is destined to be fulfilled if you keep on striving to do the best you can.

Sorrow unsettles you for a time, but at length it opens the eyes of your understanding so that you know with absolute certainty that your dearest dreams are yet to be realized and you go on confident and unafraid.

LOCAL VOITURE INITIATES 12 NEW MEMBERS

Two hundred voyageurs of voitures in Riverside, San Bernardino, Imperial and San Diego counties were guests here last night of Orange County Voiture No. 527, La Societe 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux, when the local organization was host to a meeting of voitures of the eighth district, comprising the counties named.

The fun organization of the American Legion introduced its program here with a street parade, headed by a bugle and drum corps, members of which wore rube clothing. Twelve "goofs," Legion boys who were to be initiated, comprised part of the parading group. They wore prison garb and were chained to each other.

The local voiture put on the initiation ceremonies, and the following 12 men today were thoroughly acquainted and impressed with the fact that they were full fledged members of the organization: E. R. Jensen, Santa Ana; L. L. Smith, Henry Apple, Orange; George Bickford, Fullerton; C. O. Davis, Capistrano Beach; H. C. Yarbrough, E. A. Branner, Brea; R. R. Rossetto, Garden Grove; J. S. Boulden, Anaheim; William C. Curnutt, Huntington Beach; R. L. Massey, Maywood, and George Young, Tustin.

Headed by Pat Thanum, the Imperial valley delegation came here determined to secure endorsement by the district of the candidacy of Thanum for chemist of the eighth district at the state convention, to be held in Sacramento in August. The delegation got what it wanted. The group brought with it two crates of cantaloupes for distribution here, but it was decided at the meeting that the melons should be forwarded to Voyager Jack Penry, who is ill in San Francisco.

Some of the prominent men in the 40 and 8 organization present were George Moulton, grand chef de gare, San Diego; George Russell, grand chef de train, San Francisco; R. R. Dinsmore, grand chemist of the eighth district, Riverside; Rex Whitmore, grand chemist of the seventh district, Pomona, and "Blondy" Reynolds, grand conductor, Santa Ana.

During the evening Grand Chef de Train Russell outlined developments in the program of the 40 and 8 to establish two camps in the state for veteran convalescents, pointing out that it is planned to offer assistance to veterans between the time they leave a hospital and the period when they have recovered sufficiently to resume their employment. Russell gave emphasis to the point that the program is in behalf of non-compensated veterans. One of the camps is to be located in Southern California, and Huntington Beach already has been selected as the location. Plans are being worked out, Russell said, for raising funds to establish and maintain the camps.

The meeting of the district was concluded with a program provided by talent from Los Angeles.

Two men named Rush were rushed into Justice Kenneth Morrison's court this morning, both charged with driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. Both cases were slowed down, however, when continuances were granted.

ASK ARREST OF GAMBLING SHIP CAPTORS TODAY

The gambling ship Montefalcone, always anxious to remain outside the law, today rode the high seas, five miles off Seal Beach in federal waters with a disgruntled Los Angeles gambler as her new commander after a bold seizure of the ship.

To last night's crowd of pleasure seekers, which did not know the vessel was in the hands of five men who had boarded the boat forcibly Tuesday night and had discharged the crew after gunfire, today's revelations were startling.

Water front rumors that open conflict had resulted from the rivalry of gambling factions was confirmed by Attorney George Blair, who appealed to the district attorney's office on behalf of the ship's owners.

Early reports declared that Russian Louie, prominent Los Angeles gambler, and four companions, commandeered a water taxi operating to the Johanna Smith, another gambling ship, and forced the pilot to take them to the Montefalcone.

In the brief scuffle which followed their arrival at the Montefalcone several shots were fired but no one was injured. The raiders assertedly took possession of the boat after driving Nick Oswald, part owner, and Tommy Jacobs ashore.

Whether Russian Louie is a part owner in the enterprise and whether

DISMISS ARSON CASE; BAR USE OF CONFESSION

Because of the district attorney's inability to get an alleged confession into the record, the case against W. C. Thompson, owner of the Santa Ana Roofing company, charged with wilful and malicious burning of property, was dismissed in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court this morning.

As a result of this case, a charge against Jack Rice, arrested at the same time, was ordered dismissed by the district attorney's office.

Thompson is alleged to have confessed to setting fire to the offices of the Santa Ana Roofing company on the night of May 1. The fire spread to three other buildings, all of which were badly damaged and the fire loss was reported at $15,000.

Thompson and Rice were arrested several days later by B. H. er the raid resulted from dispute over the ownership of the Montefalcone or from an argument over patronage from the water taxi operators could not be established definitely.

Blair, attorney for Nick and George Oswald, demanded the arrest of the Montefalcone's captor, and was to confer with the district attorney again today, although it was thought unlikely that the state could do anything, as the ship is believed to be out of jurisdiction of the law.

CONDITIONS IN AUSTRIA TOLD BY L. L. BEEMAN

Continuing his study on the origins of the World war, L. L. Beeman, junior college instructor, opened his talk on international relations over KREG last night with a discussion of conditions in Austria in the nineteenth century. His lecture follows in part:

"In 1814, Francis Joseph was emperor of Austria-Hungary. He had ruled since 1848, or for 66 years. He was a member of the Hapsburg family which had ruled continuously in Austria for more than 600 years. The Hapsburgs were powerful autocrats always ruling over conquered peoples of different nationalities. Only once in this long period had there been any real show of democracy. That was in 1848. In that year, Liberal revolutions broke out in all the countries of Central Europe, including Austria. Metternich, the chief minister of Austria, had just passed away. He had been an uncompromising enemy of democratic and constitutional government. He believed in divine right absolute monarchy.

"In the year that Francis Joseph took the throne the people in Austria arose and set up a republic and the people in Hungary revolted against Austrian rule. With the help of Russia the revolution was put down and the monarchy restored. However, a constitution was granted to both Austria and Hungary. They became limited monarchies with the same emperor and king, Francis Joseph.

"The people in Austria and Hungary had some voice in the government. They got along very well and liked their Hapsburg ruler very much.

"But there was a row of conquered peoples, almost encircling these two states. They had no voice in the government. They were of different race, nationality, language, and traditions. Beginning on the north of Austria Hungary and coming around on the east and south are Bohemians, Slovaks, Rumanians, Serbians, Bosnians, Croats and Italians. Most of these subject peoples were Slavs. They were at times cruelly oppressed by the Austrian and Hungarian rule and ready to revolt any time they saw a chance for success. Old Francis Joseph had outlived most of his family. In 1914 the heir to the throne was Francis Ferdinand, a nephew.

"The young Francis Ferdinand had some qualities that we Americans admire. He had much trouble to secure his right to the throne. He had fallen in love with a young Hungarian girl and they were to be married. Old Francis Joseph, who wanted him to marry some princess of royal blood, disinherited him in favor of his younger brother, a worthless, dissipated fellow, who died before Francis Joseph. This left Francis Ferdinand the only heir. He had married the Hungarian girl and had been disinherited and when married had agreed that none of his children should ever inherit the throne. After the death of his brother he began to fight to have his right to the throne restored and his children whom he loved very much made his heirs. In this he was finally successful. He became popular with the people of Austria and Hungary. It was understood that he would carry out the policies of his uncle, Francis Joseph.

"It was reported that in order to get a better control over the Slavic peoples of the empire on the south that he intended to combine Croatia, Bosnia, Herzegovina into one state and give them a government like Hungary had. Thus making the Austrian empire a federation of three states.

"These Slavs wanted independence, not federation with Austria. The Serbians sympathized with their brother Slavs under Hapsburg rule and felt that the next step would be for Austria to annex Serbia. These plans of Francis Ferdinand and other plans and acts of Austria toward Serbia caused a very bitter hatred both ways.

"In June, 1914, it was learned that Francis Ferdinand and his wife would make a visit to Sarajevo, the old capital of Bosnia, which had been arbitrarily annexed to Austria in 1908. Sarajevo is across the boundary line of Serbia only a short distance. Francis Ferdinand was making this visit for the purpose of winning these peoples to his support. Two young Serbians planned his murder and succeeded in carrying it out on June 28, 1914. This was the immediate cause of the war.

"I have given rather fully this background in order that you may see two things: first, the motive for the murder; second, that you may see how this murder provoked the World war. The one question discussed most since then to the present day, 16 years later, is who was responsible for starting this war. We all know and agree on the real causes but who is or was responsible for beginning it is still a question, though pretty well agreed upon now. I think it will be interesting to you to understand the three stages through which this discussion has gone, and the three sides of historical writers who have written on the subject.

"The first group of writers were those who wrote during the war and immediately following. They all wrote under the heat of war hysteria, prejudices and hatreds, with the first aim to justify their own countries and put the blame on the other fellows. They wrote without having the facts on the other side, and not only did not want the facts but in many cases deliberately misrepresented facts.

"Early in the war each of the leading nations published an official book justifying itself. These books were for home consumption. Austria published the Red Book, Russia the Orange Book, France the Yellow Book, United States the Red, White and Blue Books, England and Germany also published books. These books got their names from the color of the binding. On the side of the Allies all the books agreed that Germany was the sole cause of the war. On the side of the Central powers it was unanimously agreed that Russia, France and England caused the war, with Russia the biggest sinner.

"The Allies put a provision in the treaty with Germany at the end of the war which reads: 'The Allies assert and Germany accepts the responsibility of herself and her allies for all the loss and damage to which the allied and associated powers and their nationals have been subjected as a consequence of the war imposed upon them by Germany and her Allies.' This put the full responsibility on Germany. She refused to sign such a confession and her first delegates returned home without signing. The Allies then gave Germany an ultimatum to sign on the dotted line, and Marshal Foch began preparations to invade Germany. Germany had to sign.

"The second set of writers wrote about 1922-1924. They claimed they had some new evidence that showed that Germany was innocent and the Allies were guilty. They did have some new evidence on the subject, you will remember that in 1917 and 1918 revolutions in Russia and Germany and Austria respectively, the revolutionists overthrew the old government and set up Socialist republics. These Socialists were anxious to discredit the old governments and rulers and justify themselves at home and abroad. They decided the best way to do this was to do as Jefferson said in the Declaration of Independence, 'Let the facts be submitted to a candid world.' So they decided to publish to the world all the secret documents found in the archives of the governments they had taken over. Karl Kautsky, a scholarly German Socialist, published all the correspondence between the German government and the other governments. This included letters and telegrams received, copies of those sent out, instructions to diplomats and reports from diplomats and others. The Russians did the same thing in Russia. In Austria a republic was set up, the republicans there also published all the Austrian secret documents. This was a great service to the world. England, France and Italy held their documents secret.

"The second set of writers largely seized these documents and wrote histories based on them. They swerved to the extreme the other way. Since then England has authorized Professor Gooch, an eminent English historian, to publish the English documents. We now have access to documents of Serbia, some in France and more in Italy, yet these two countries still keep most of theirs under lock and key.

"During the last three or four years another group of historians have gone over these documents and have given us a more accurate report on the responsibility for the World war.

"These documents have been translated into English and French and are accessible to students in our larger libraries.

"In my next talk I will review the diplomatic movements in Europe from the murder of the Archduke to the outbreak of the war one month later, and show who is, according to the most reliable research, responsible for the outbreak of the World war."

SEEKS $26,660 JUDGMENT FOR CRASH INJURY

Demanding $26,660 as personal and property damages resulting from an automobile crash in Fullerton last March, F. A. Hoag yesterday filed suit in superior court against Ollie Smith.

Hoag declared in the complaint that he was sitting in his car parked at the curb of Commonwealth avenue in the middle of the block between Yale and Lincoln avenues, on the evening of March 12, when the defendant, who was alleged to be driving in a careless and drunken manner, crashed into his car. The complaint further alleged that Smith was driving at a speed in excess of 60 miles per hour and that the collision utterly destroyed the plaintiff's machine.

Injuries sustained by Hoag were listed as violent shock, jerking and twisting of the neck that caused a dormant goitre to become active, wrenching of his back in such a manner as to cause permanent separation of the vertebrae and internal injuries. For the injuries he asked $25,000 damages. Other damages were itemized as loss of the car, $300; loss of property in the car, which was burned after an explosion of the gas tank, $60; and $1300 for medical care.

ALLEGED FORGER ARRESTED HERE

Lester A. Samman, 32, whom police claimed had been "hiding out" in Santa Ana for the past several weeks, was arrested at the Terminal hotel here last night, and turned over to Los Angeles authorities, where he is said to be wanted on two counts of forgery in Los Angeles and one count in Long Beach.

The arrest was made by A. L. Steward, deputy sheriff, on information from the Los Angeles police, but it was a disgruntled "friend" of Samman who actually turned him in, it was reported.

Samman is a former convict of San Quentin prison, Steward reported. The prisoner told the officer he formerly was "chief clerk" at the "big house."

CEREAL, flavored with sugar, makes that essential food with milk a pleasing carrier of the vitamins, minerals and roughage it contains.

THAT STEAMING, hot, fragrant porridge—that crisp, crunchy ready-to-eat cereal served with milk or cream—tastes so much better when sprinkled with sugar.

Consider this, especially when children are concerned. Many youngsters get an early dislike for this important food because their mothers, often ill-advised, fail to heighten its mild flavor with sugar. But, as a matter of fact, doctors are in favor of sugar on cereal for its flavoring qualities. If you wish, you can add the sugar to the cereal as it cooks.

Other wholesome foods are also more pleasant to eat when sugar is added while they cook. A dash of sugar to a pinch of salt is a good rule to follow. Such use of sugar, as a flavor, makes essential foods pleasing carriers of the vitamins, minerals and roughage they contain.

For a pleasant surprise add a dash of sugar to peas, carrots or other vegetables as they cook. Most foods are more delicious and nourishing with sugar. The Sugar Institute.

"It's toasted"

Your Throat Protection — against irritation — against cough

*"Moderation in diet seems to me the first and great requisite of any treatment which may be counted upon as ultimately satisfactory," says Dr. Beverley Robinson in the New York Medical Journal. We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky instead," you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

HOW'D HE STAND IT?

WORCESTER, Mass., May 21.—Any man who can stand being beaten by his wife five times a week for four years deserves a medal, not a divorce. But Frank B. Woodward was recently granted the latter when he gave undisputed testimony to the foregoing effect. He told the judge that his wife had once stuck him with a pitchfork and once hit him with a flatiron, knocking out all his teeth. Her chief delight was in chasing him with a horsewhip, Woodward said.

CRAIG ELECTED BREA MAYOR BY CITY COUNCIL

BREA, May 22.—Ted Craig was elected chairman of the board of trustees and mayor of the city of Brea at the regular meeting of the city council yesterday evening, following the resignation of Mayor J. A. Leuzinger, who is now manager of the Oil Well Supply company at Taft.

Mayor Craig appointed F. J. Schwitzer as chairman of the water, park, plunge and city hall committee; O. S. Close on the police and fire committee; W. C. Baldwin on street, alley and sewer committee. Other committees and officers will be appointed at the next meeting.

ing, as will another man to take Leuzinger's place on the board.

Frank Guard, an old resident of the county, brought up the subject of joining the Metropolitan Water district and City Attorney Albert Launer advised the council to make application for its share of power from the Boulder Dam project, saying that all applications must be in by the end of the year, and that the cities getting the power would get the water.

A franchise was granted the Union Oil company to run water lines under the city streets to the Bantanchury ranch, and the first reading was given the resolution that the $500 bond from the oil company be accepted. The tax on this franchise gives the city 2 per cent of the receipts from this line.

A resolution was read which allowed the American Legion to deed back to the city that portion of property not used in building the Legion hall and receive instead a deed to part of a lot on the west which was used.

It was reported by Street Superintendent Fred Boxall that by changing a pump at one of the city water plants that $190 a year could be saved and it was planned to do it.

Chief of Police W. Williams reported that boys were doing a great deal of petty thievery, especially on parked cars, and that he would like authority to ring the curfew at 9 p. m.

City Attorney Launer stated that an ordinance was in force providing that curfew be run at 9 p. m. from April 1 to October 30 and at 8 p. m. the rest of the year, and that children under 16 must be accompanied by an older person if on the streets after these hours.

The council agreed that this ordinance should be enforced.

City Attorney Launer was instructed to draw up a fire ordinance which will also cover the use of fireworks and firearms and present it at the next meeting, that it may be in force by July 4.

It was reported that the city plunge would be opened Monday, May 26, with Roy H. Moore as manager.

June 1-7 was officially appointed as cleanup week.

A complaint was brought before the board that drainage water on the north side of the grammar school grounds prevented the development of a play ground and the board was asked to take the matter up.

Residents of South Orange street and West Birch street complained that the gas company had dug up the streets and had not fixed them properly. The gas company agreed to pay the city for putting these in good condition.

THREE DIVORCE SUITS STARTED

Three divorce suits, each on a different charge, were filed in superior court yesterday by a husband and two wives.

Alta A. Smith, who was married to Frank Smith on Jan. 23, 1925, charged extreme cruelty in her complaint. She declared that her husband on one occasion when they were playing cards with friends, reached across the table and slapped her, that he was peevish and critical, and would spend money for his personal pleasure when the family was in need of the necessities of life. They separated April 26, 1930, according to the complaint.

Marion Hackney, in her suit against Cameron Hackney, filed a charge of failure to provide. They were married a year ago this month at Berkeley and separated less than seven months later, the complaint said.

Desertion was the charge against Josephine R. A. Waller contained in the complaint filed by Thomas F. Waller. The plaintiff alleged that his wife deserted him less than two months after their wedding, which took place in Santa Barbara in July, 1928.

FITTS TELLS OF CAMPAIGN TO ELIMINATE CRIME IN L. A.; CROWDS HEAR ORANGE TALK

ORANGE, May 22.—"I have only one promise to make to the people of California and that is, that if I am elected governor, I will devote all my effort and power toward the prosperity, the happiness and the uplifting of citizens of the state, and toward relieving the burden of taxes which is driving the home owner, the farmer and the business man from our American life," said Buron Fitts, addressing a capacity audience at the American Legion hall, Orange, last evening.

The Los Angeles district attorney, criminal record. From the financial standpoint alone preventive measures would be better than curative.

"The settled, old fashioned American home that was the backbone of our nation is gone and no substitute will ever be found for it. Parents of today are delegating their duty toward the upbringing of their children to the schools and the churches with the result that the age of youth is the age of lawlessness. The average age of criminals has dropped in the past few years from 24 to 22 years.

"If a boy is not a hardened criminal when he enters San Quentin he will be when he comes out. We should build an institution that will train these boys, educate them to be useful citizens, and which will be on a self-sustaining basis.

Fitts was introduced by Sen. Nelson Edwards. Fitts told how he resigned as lieutenant-governor to act as district attorney of Los Angeles county.

Preceding this meeting he talked to the members of the Masonic lodge at Orange and following it he spoke to the "40 et 8" at Santa Ana.

For Busy Mothers

MRS. WILLIAM PARENT, 1415 W. 62nd St., Seattle, Wash.

"My little daughter was born on a homestead in northern Alberta. I had four other children and I worked so hard that I suffered a nervous breakdown. The doctor's tonic did not seem to help me and when a friend told me about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I began to take that instead. I kept on until I felt well again. It brought back my strength. Today I can do anything, thanks to the Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. William Parent.

MRS. H. DOLHONDE, 6318 York St., New Orleans, Louisiana

"Eight years ago before my last baby was born, I started taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I got such good results that I named her Catherine Lydia. I have six older children and five grandchildren too. I am 44, but people tell me I look much younger. I am now taking the Vegetable Compound again because of my age. I eat and sleep better and I do all my housework, and my washing. I will do my best to answer letters."—Mrs. H. Dolhonde.

WEST WINDS

Here and There in Local Sport

By EDDIE WEST

Stalwart George Blaeholder got away from a stand one way or another.

Pitching for the St. Louis Browns against Cleveland, the big Garden Grove right hander, who held out longer than any other baseball player this spring, was replaced in the seventh inning but he was ahead when he left the game as the Browns won Blaeholder gets credit for the triumph in the official records.

Blaeholder gave only one run in the first six innings but weakened in the seventh, Cleveland scoring three times. Undoubtedly big George felt the lack of work along about that time but his first showing, nevertheless, was encouraging.

The morning papers note that Joe Bell, Long Beach welterweight, will box at the Hollywood American Legion stadium tomorrow night as a substitute for Leonard Allen.

This is of no particular local interest other than that Bell was supposed to be the first opponent for Zenaydo Chavez in the stiff-punching Santa Ana Mexican "comeback campaign."

Chavez was to have faced Bell in an eight-round main event at Compton tomorrow.

Bell probably jumped at the chance to get on the Hollywood card. The opportunity of playing ball with Allen rather than Chavez also might have entered into Bell's calculations.

Always enterprising, the Orange league is willing to take time by the forelock and place itself on record as favoring a new plan for settling tied football games.

The well knit little confederacy of the county has recommended to the California Interscholastic federation that in case of a tie in any semi-final or final championships contests this fall that the winner will be the team making the greater number of first downs.

The league also tentatively approved a plan to insure against injury all athletes under its jurisdiction. The insurance would pay for hospital and medical treatment. So far as I know no other circuit has shown such business acumen.

Yes or no, the Orange league us-

Santa Ana Football Schedule Drawn

SAINTS OPPOSE FULLERTON ON THANKSGIVING

Santa Ana's 1930 football schedule was out today.

It calls for the high school to play seven Coast Preparatory league games, opening October 11 against Woodrow Wilson at Long Beach and closing here Thanksgiving Day against the Saints' traditional rival, Fullerton.

The junior college will open its Southern California Jaycee conference campaign on the same day, meeting Long Beach at Santa Ana, and will close Thanksgiving day against Fullerton at Fullerton.

The schedule, tentatively announced in The Register several weeks ago, was officially approved at a meeting in Long Beach yesterday at which J. P. O'Mara of Pasadena was elected president of the consolidated high school-junior college conference.

John Mangold, Woodrow Wilson, was named vice president, and Eugene Wolfe of Glendale secretary-treasurer.

The original schedule was slightly changed to pave a way for the re-entry of San Diego high school which had not been taken care of at first.

ORANGE LEAGUE SCHEDULES FOR 1930-31 DRAWN

Schedules for all sports during the 1930-31 school year were announced today by officials of the Orange league.

Football season will begin October 10, basketball on January 9 and baseball April 17. The league's annual track meet will be held at Brea April 11.

The conference will be expanded next year to include the new Newport Harbor high school, a union institution which will open for the fall semester.

Otherwise, the lineup of the league is expected to be substantially the same. The C. I. F. gave Brea-Olinda and Excelsior permission to enter the San Gabriel Valley league but both are expected to remain in the Orange league, and accordingly they were included in all schedules which follow:

Prep Champs To Play Big Series Here

If Huntington Beach defeats Anaheim tomorrow and goes into a tie with Excelsior for the baseball championship of the Orange league, the two high school teams will play a two-out-of-three series, probably at Poly field, The Register learned today.

Excelsior assured itself of a tie yesterday by winning from Garden Grove but only after 10 innings of ding-dong ball. Arrangements have been made for a playoff series if the Oilers trim Anaheim, and Santa Ana's park probably will be selected as the best available neutral field, it is understood.

CRITZ-BENTON DEAL MAY WIN M'GRAW TITLE

By DAVIS J. WALSH (I. N. S. Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, May 22.—Full many a fatted calf deal our Mr. McGraw has made during the years that he has maintained his hierarchy in connection with the New York Giants. But the one he pulled out of the hat yesterday, whereby he gave up a losing pitcher, Larry Benton, for a winning second baseman, Hughie Critz, was no less than genius and, if it doesn't win the pennant for the Giants, then the thing they call "form" is a delusion and our mathematical tenets have been established in vain.

McGraw gave up nothing because Benton couldn't win for him. The only thing the former hadn't lost during the last two seasons was his way to the ball park. He may help the Cincinnati Reds; indeed, he looked like the old Benton two days ago in going 10 innings against the Braves. But what is supposititious value compared with certainty? Critz at second will give the New York Giants the greatest infield in all baseball and, in fact, one of the great combinations of the ages.

Infielders Make Champs

Ball clubs don't go wrong with that kind. The old Cubs had Chance, Evers, Tinker and Steinfield and they won four pennants in the five seasons between 1906 and 1910. The old Athletics followed with McNamara, Collins, Barry and Baker and you couldn't get them out between 1910 and 1914, during which they also won four pennants and the world's title thrice.

McGraw himself had one of these fool-proof infielers, Kelly, Frisch, Bancroft and Groh, some seven or eight years ago, and what was the result? He established a modern record with four successive pennants between 1921 and 1924, although the original quartet didn't start

THE NEW DEMPSEY HIMSELF

The greatest puncher in the heavyweight division. That's what some of the scribes are calling Frankie Campbell, below, who boxes an exhibition at the Orange County Athletic club here tonight.

PAUL ADDS JAVELIN TO TRACK REPERTOIRE; SAINT STAR TO ENTER U. S. C. IN SEPTEMBER

Already All-American interscholastic low hurdle champion and Southern California broad jump titleholder as well as a high school prep shot putter, Norman Paul, captain and star of Santa Ana's great 1930 high school track and field team, is industriously picking up the trade of javelin tossing at which Bill Cook, junior college coach, thinks he will be a champion, too.

Cook made the statement that Paul had such great possibilities in his new pastime that it would not surprise him if he became the greatest thrower on the coast, if not the United States. Coach

Cook's talk was not idle chatter because with less than a week's practice, the Saint star is hitting the 160-foot mark consistently.

Coach Cook was a premier javelin tosser when he attended U. S. C. and is an excellent instructor for Paul. His best mark was 204 feet. Cook trained Blanchard and Melvin Beatty, Santa Ana jaycee stars, to toss the javelin with great success. Blanchard set a new college record here and is now on the U. S. C. track team. He too ka third in the Stanford dual meet. Melvin Beatty cracked his brother's record with a heave of 175 feet, 4 inches and has another year ahead of him here.

After graduating in June, Paul will enroll at the University of Southern California. His brother Howard, who was captain of the Saint tracksters in 1927, is Coach Dean Cromwell's best broad jumper and leaves Friday for the East where he will help the Trojans in their quest for the I. C. A. track title.

Three all-time school records are held by the Santa Ana star. His 24-second low hurdle record probably will stand for many years although he ran the low barriers only one season. His great competitive spirit gave him the other two marks of 22 feet 9 1/2 inches in the broad jump and 49 feet, 10 inches in the shot put.

Paul's ability in the low hurdles placed him on the high school All-American track squad last year and it would not be surprising if he receives the hurdle honor again. When he goes to U. S. C., he probably will compete only in the javelin and hurdles, dropping the shot put and broad jump.

Sometimes I wonder if it isn't better to pop off once in a while and break the tension. During the British Open at Sunningdale in 1926, Wild Bill Mehlhorn broke a brassie across his knee and played magnificently golf after that. Who knows the answer, if any?

Reboin Will Enter Local Jaycee, Plan

Alvin Reboin, premier all-time Santa Ana high school all-around athlete, will enter junior college here when he is graduated next February.

The football, track and baseball star, who also plays basketball well when he finds time, plans to spend at least his freshman year with the team, it is understood. Then he intends to transfer to some four-year institution, not yet selected.

Lloyd Nuzum and Doyle Gillette, two of Reboin's football and track teammates, will enroll at jaycee in September along with many other Santa Ana and Orange county prep stars. Norman Paul, captain of the Saint cinderpaths, plans to go to U. S. C. next year.

NEW CITY WILL HOUSE OLYMPIC STARS IN L. A.

LOS ANGELES, May 22.—When the 10th Olympiad is held here in 1932, visiting delegations will find a brand new town awaiting their occupancy, according to plans revealed in the report of the general committee released here simultaneously with its reading before the L. A. A. F. meeting in Berlin.

The cost of transporting, housing and feeding each athlete coming from Europe will be only $400, according to the report. Erection of Olympic Village and special railroad fares make this possible. Costs to countries bordering the Pacific Ocean and contiguous countries will be proportionately low.

Preparations for the world event are so near complete that the Olympic Games could be staged this year if necessary, the report declared.

The committee's report was presented at the Berlin meet yesterday by its president, William Garland and Zack J. Farmer, secretary and manager, both of Los Angeles.

All Structures Prepared

The report showed that all the structure for the games are already prepared, or are nearing completion. Among them are the following:

The Los Angeles Coliseum will seat 165,000 spectators at field events, gymnastics, opening and closing exercises.

Near the stadium a museum will house the fine arts competitions; the armory will be known as the Olympic fencing pavilion; and a grand stand seating 8000 persons will be erected in front of the swimming stadium.

Olympic auditorium will accommodate boxing, wrestling and weight lifting contests.

Yachting Course Picked

A buoy marked yachting course has been laid out off Point Firmin, while the 2000-meter rowing course has been located at Long Beach.

Rose Bowl in Pasadena, scene of the annual East-West football classic will do similar duty during the Olympic Games.

The pentathlon and equestrian events will be held at Ross field at Arcadia.

Training quarters at 15 fields and numerous gymnasiums have been obtained for the visiting participants.

LOS ANGELES, May 22.—Having Coach Howard Jones on the faculty team enabled the teachers to defeat the University of Southern California seniors 9 to 5 in a much cheered baseball game here yesterday. Jones pitched a heady game throughout.

CAMPBELL AND EMANUEL SHOW HERE TONIGHT

Some of the greatest punch-throwing talent in the country congregates at Promoter H. T. Foust's Orange County Athletic club here tonight.

Frankie Campbell, sensational San Francisco heavyweight who has scored 13 successive knock-outs in Los Angeles, will box a three-round exhibition with a sparring mate, Frankie Muskie.

Armand Emanuel, clever Jewish fighter who decisively out-pointed Jim Maloney of Boston the same night that Campbell kayaked Les Kennedy at Wrigley field, will be introduced.

There is a possibility also that Dave Shadoe, coast middleweight, who faces Ace Huddins at the Olympic Monday night, will be a visitor although the recent death of Leo P. Flynn, Shadoe's manager, may interfere with this arrangement.

Dempsey Was Visitor Once

Not since the night the one and only Jack Dempsey refereed a show at Boyd Ellis' old Delhi "Barn" has such an assemblage of fighting men been scheduled hereabouts. Dempsey was a visitor a few weeks after his famous fight with Luis Firpo.

The celebrities will add color and distinction to one of Promoter Foust's regular 30-round cards, which has for its main event an eight-round collision between "Jolting Joe" Goeders of Santa Ana and Roy Moore of Long Beach, light heavyweights.

Goeders is picked to win from the blond Moore who has been out of the fistic harness for fully a year but who has ambitions to regain the prestige he enjoyed in 1926 and 1927, years when he toured the Antipodes and came sailing home with three Australian championships, bona fide ones that are still recognized.

Goeders Is Favorite

In his finest fighting form, young Goeders figures over Moore in every respect except experience. Few prospects like Goeders have come along here in recent years. Until better ones appear, Goeders will do. He should win handily tonight, perhaps by a knock-out.

The six-round semi sends into action again Joe Reese and Casey Risko, a couple of youthful welterweights. Reese is a flashy, fancy boxer. Risko is strictly a puncher. Reese beat Risko last week and ought to repeat.

Mickey Thomas is picked to win from Paul Gomez. Al Fredericks and Johnny Martinez look about even but "Delhi" probably will win. Eddie Serrano is a good bet against Emil Jure.

Westminster Wins City League Game

WESTMINSTER, May 22.—Westminster's night league baseball team won from the Huntington Beach Standard Oil team with a score of 7 to 6 in 11 innings on the Huntington Beach field last night.

The local lineup was changed for Wednesday evening's play with Burns, second base; Campbell, short stop; McGuire, first base; Sauers, third base; R. Penhall, catcher; Starkey, center field; Boyd Davis, right field; F. Penhall, left field; DeBusk, pitcher. Next Monday evening the locals are to play Orange.

VETS PROTEST GAME LOST IN EXTRA INNINGS

Baseball officials of the American Legion planned today to lodge with President Kenneth Morrison of the Santa Ana City league a protest over the game the Legionnaires lost, 4 to 3, to the Dennis Printers in the Bowl last night.

They based their complaint on the fact that the teams played nine innings whereas, they maintained, league regulations call for all contests to terminate at the end of seven. The score was 1 to 1 at the end of the seventh so the clubs continued into extra innings.

Both sides scored twice in the eighth and then the Printers pushed across their winning tally in the last of the ninth.

Strictly a pitcher's battle between Jimmy Mack of the Printers and Earl Jones of the Legion, the affair was by far the best played by interclub clubs this spring.

The second game, a practice affair between Peck's market and the Auto Club of Orange County, was won by the latter combination rather easily, 10 to 2. Everett Berry went the route for the Clubmen while Horace Snow worked six for the Butchers, letting "Pop" Toosee fling the final frame.

The week's City league play will

Bits of Transportation History A Spanish Grandee Rides in State

Long before carriages were commonplace in early California, General Vallejo brought his picturesque and resplendent equipage from Mexico. One of the wealthiest and most powerful of the Spanish Dons, General Vallejo was well able to satisfy such a luxurious whim. His land grant, from the Spanish king, covered thousands of acres; while his great adobe mansion, the ruins of which still remain, was the center of life on the great Petaluma Rancho.

IN RESERVE—two and one-half million barrels!

—transposed into everyday language, this means that Rio Grande has in great storage tanks a reserve of over 100 MILLION gallons of crude and refined products! But it is a reserve that is constantly in motion, tanks perpetually emptying, and constantly being refilled from the earth's great reservoirs beneath Rio Grande's derricks.

this regime and suffered replacements in its final year. However, the replacements were as good and maybe better than the originals and the idea of infield dominion in baseball isn't altered. One can win a pennant with an infielder; both the Cubs and Athletics proved this last year. In effect, infield mediocrity doesn't preclude another matter. It is the hallmark of success. It is almost impossible to lose a pennant with an infield like Terry, Critz, Jackson and Lindstrom.

Ordinary Outfield?
It may be pointed out that the Giants have an ordinary outfield. What of it? So did the old Athletics. It may be contended that the Giants' pitching is uncertain. And what of that? It won't stay that way now. An infield with a pair of madmen like Critz and Jackson around second base and Terry and Lindstrom at the two extremes will make any pitcher look good.

The current infield at the Polo Grounds is greater defensively than its predecessor of seven years ago and at least its equal in attack. I wouldn't hesitate to compare it with the immortal four men of Chicago and Philadelphia, for Critz and Jackson have double-play possibilities that smack of the greatness that Tinker and Evers and Barry and Collins knew. In fact, Critz already holds the double play record in collaboration with Horace Ford and the latter is to Jackson as the pulse throb is to a split-second. That Jackson surely can mix it, so to speak.

They ought to parlay the Giants right into the National league pennant. In fact, if John McGraw didn't win the pennant yesterday, he never will win another.

HUNTINGTON BEACH TO HONOR ATHLETES

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 22.—The annual distinguished service banquet of Huntington Beach high school will be held at the high school cafeteria Friday night, May 23. The honor society this term of the high school is the largest on record and the school athletes have distinguished themselves in every line of sports. Letters will be presented to many of the athletes, and merits, badges and pins to others who have won in various contests of school activities.

Members of the faculty and their wives, the members of the school board and their wives, all students of the honor society and all students who have won distinction during the present school term, with a few invited guests, will be present.

PORTLAND, Ore., May 22.—Sale of Buster Chatham, shortstop, to the Boston Braves was confirmed today by officials of the Portland baseball club. The deal will bring an announced amount of cash. Gene Robertson and an unnamed player to the Portland club. It was not disclosed when Chatham would report to the Braves.

BERKELEY, May 22.—Seven university of California athletes today were en route to Cambridge, Mass., to participate in the L. C. A. A. A. championships.

The Stanford and Southern California contingent were to leave for the East tonight.

SOUTHERN COUNTIES GOLFERS TO CLASH

SAN CLEMENTE, May 22.—Professionals and amateurs of the Southern Counties Golf association will meet in a pro-amateur tournament on the Spanish Village links Monday afternoon. More than 26 players are expected to enter the tourney.

The following courses will be represented: San Clemente, Ocean-side, Del Mar, La Jolla, San Diego, Chula Vista, Agua Caliente, Corona, La Mesa, Rancho Santa Fe, Hotville and other clubs from the Imperial valley. Clubs of San Diego and Imperial counties and San Clemente from Orange county make up the association.

The Spanish Village course will be represented by two teams, "Babe" Brissoneau, professional, and Tom Murphine Jr., amateur, and Don Garner, assistant pro at San Clemente and J. A. Ross, amateur. Ross is a four handicap man while Murphine is rated an eight.

THERE IT IS, in the picture up above. Through! Worn out! Ready for the scrap heap! That Silvertown we showed you in one of our advertisements a while ago.

It traveled 30,000 miles with last year's Silver Fleet. Made the entire tour through 46 states without ever coming off the rim. Transferred to the 1930 Goodrich Silver Fleet... and punished for 17,892 more miles.

Now it's through... with a service record of 47,892 miles.

Proud? Naturally we're proud of it! Because we sell tires like that. Tires capable of giving unheard-of mileage.

There's nothing special about this Silvertown. Nothing out of the usual run. It came straight from stock for its grueling trip with the Silver Fleet. And it received no care... no attention... you can't give your tires.

That's why we're sure of ourselves when we say you can get mileage like this from Silvertowns. They've proved they have the stuff. Proved they can beat all comers in open competition.

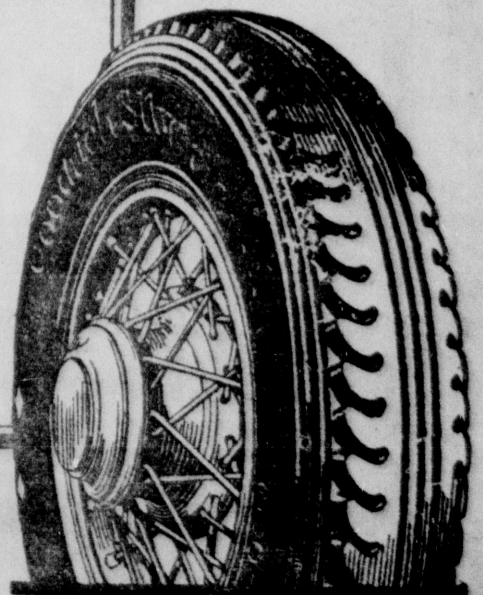

Come in to see our Silvertowns. Blood brothers to this veteran of the road. They never were expensive... and now, mile for mile, they're the cheapest tire you can buy. Yes, we have your size waiting for you.

Civil War Heroes To Be Honored By Kiwanis Club

VETERANS WILL BE GUESTS AT NEXT MEETING

The Kiwanis club, on next Wednesday, will pay its annual tribute to veterans of the Civil war by having them as guests at its regular club meeting. The meeting will be held in the basement dining room of the Elks club-house, instead of St. Ann's Inn, the meeting place having been changed as a courtesy to the auxiliary of the American Legion, which is to compliment Mrs. Mary Virginia McCrae, president of the national organization of the auxiliary, with a luncheon at the inn on that day.

A. N. Zerman, Fred Newcomb and Maurice Enderle were named as a committee to check on veterans of the vicinity who will be able to attend and to assign a soldier to each member of the club. The veterans will be called for and returned to their homes, or they may assemble at the inn. It was pointed out that there is possibility of the committee overlooking some of the men who fought in the war and it was suggested that wearers of the blue and the gray who may wish to be present advise the committee of their desire.

Award by O. N. Robertson of prizes won in the Kiwanis club golf tournament at the Santa Ana Country club last week, vocal selections by Reginald Taylor of Anaheim, and an address by Walter Dexter, president of Whittier college, were features of the meeting. O. H. Barr, former president of the local club, presided as program chairman.

"Problems of the Fourth Decade" was the subject of an able address by the college president. The speaker recounted some of the outstanding features of three decades of the twentieth century that have passed, and discussed what he considered problems of the fourth.

Pointing out that churches for 19 centuries had been trying to desocialize war and had failed because of lack of proper approach to the subject, and commenting on progress that had been made toward world peace, the speaker said that the greatest problem of the present decade is the development of a program of universal education that will reverse the war thought of past ages and result in permanent desocialization of war.

Dr. Dexter predicted that children born in this decade will know nothing of the horrors of war except such information as they may obtain by the study of history.

An army of women in Russia is to be trained in handling rifles and machine guns, and to act as protectors for munition factories in time of war.

STUDENT DISCUSSES PERSONAL LIBERTY IN ESSAY ON LIQUOR WHICH WON W. C. T. U. TROPHY

The following essay, written by Dorothy Proctor, was judged to be the best written in the Julia Junior High school eighth grade, by officials of the W. C. T. U. essay contest on prohibition. The Lathrop school won a cup offered for competition by The Register. The essays were written on the subject, "Why Flier and Driver Should Obey the Liquor Laws."

BY DOROTHY PROCTOR
"Are you a good citizen? Do you obey your country's laws? The laws of our country are passed by the majority and are for the good of the majority. Why shouldn't every citizen be willing to abide by them?"

"Some people think they are clever when they break laws. Many of them drink to stay with the 'crowd.' By doing this they acquire a taste for liquor, and soon they cannot leave it alone."

"People say that prohibition took away their personal liberty. What is personal liberty? When a man is so greatly ruled by a habit that it leaves him with no self control, he has no personal liberty. Liquor not only takes away your self control, but causes you to do brutal, murderous things, that you would otherwise not think of doing."

"Think of the harm you are doing yourself physically by drinking. It weakens your muscles, blurs your vision, numbs your brain, shatters your nerves, and overworks your heart."

"In this day of speed and machinery, people need quick wits and steady nerves. The other day I read a headline in a newspaper like this, 'Truck Driver Held For Murder.' This truck driver had been driving while intoxicated. He ran into a man and killed him. In other words that was just like murdering a man. Why should a person deliberately do a thing like that? If he were a loyal citizen, he never would have taken his first drink."

"Your brain is the most valuable part of you. Dr. Mayo was heard to say, 'You can get along with a wooden leg, but you can't get along with a wooden head.' You'll find that most drunkards are out of jobs. Naturally no man wants to have a man working for him whose brain is clogged with alcohol so that he can't think clearly. No man was ever known to rise to success because he drank alcoholic beverages."

"What if we didn't have prohibition? What if every man were allowed to drink as much alcohol as he pleased? With our present day speed, our country would soon be in a terrible condition. Many lives would be lost and much property destroyed daily as a result of drunken drivers."

"Why do airplane pilots have such strict rules? Why can't they do as they please? This is the reason: If your sense is the least bit dulled, or your muscles the least bit weakened by alcohol it may be fatal. The airplane is a new invention for our transportation, but it can never become a success when people drink before piloting one."

"Times have improved since prohibition, but we are trying to free our country altogether of alcohol. The children of today must be taught the dangers and damage caused by alcohol. If we succeed in making them understand these things, the problem of prohibition will be settled; for the children of today are the men of tomorrow."

FITTS SPEAKS ON WATER AND TAX SITUATION

Nearly 100 persons gathered at Ketter's cafe last night for a dinner, which was followed by an address by Buron Fitts, Los Angeles county district attorney and candidate for the Republican nomination for governor. District Attorney Z. B. West, of Santa Ana, introduced W. B. Williams, banker, who presented Fitts to the group.

Taxation, water conservation and penology were discussed by the candidate. Declaring that the tax burden has increased materially in the past five years in California, Fitts stated that this commonwealth has changed from seventh to second place in the Union in respect to tax burdens per capita.

In regard to the water situation Fitts stated that this state has tried since 1878 to establish a definite policy but that it has not done so. Water is available in the bay region and in the Sacramento valley but it is not being exploited, he declared.

Col. M. B. Wellington questioned Fitts regarding the Julian money which once was asserted to have gone into Governor Young's campaign fund. Fitts did not answer the question, stating that he did not intend to go into personalities, but that if he was pressed he could show by documentary evidence where the money went.

In his talk on the prison situation Fitts asserted that the state needs to protect the young man who has made a mistake and has gone to prison, in order that he will be a good citizen when he returns to civil life. He called attention to the situation in Minnesota, where he said prisoners convicted on theft charges worked to repay the amount stolen. The district attorney said that in California it costs $2,500,000 annually to support the state prisons and that in Minnesota the penal institutions are self-supporting.

ORANGE DENTIST HURT IN CRASH

Dr. C. M. Baker, Orange dentist, suffered cuts about the head and on the nose at 1:55 a. m. today when the automobile in which he was riding, collided with a car driven by Marvin Doss, 31, of 323 South Van Ness street, at Fourth and Main streets, according to an accident report filed at the city police station.

The Baker car was being driven by H. R. Vaughn, of 334 South Orange street, Orange, at the time of the accident. Two women in the car and Vaughn escaped injury.

Dr. Baker was taken to the Orange County hospital, where he was given first aid treatment.

making them understand these things, the problem of prohibition will be settled; for the children of today are the men of tomorrow."

BREAKFASTERS PLANNING BIG JUNE PROGRAM

Breakfast on the lawn at St. Ann's Inn—a special program of entertainment, with possibility of a nationally known character being the principal speaker—women present as guests and an attendance of not less than 250 persons—

This is the big program the Breakfast club scheduled this morning for its meeting on Thursday morning, June 12. Bruce Switzer and Eugene Kahen, the former the chairman of the general program committee, and the latter the special program committee, will have the responsibility of developing the program and executing plans for a session that promises to be outstanding.

Fred Schweitzer officiated as program chairman at the club meeting this morning, being assisted by Theo J. Wickersheim, of Fullerton.

The entertainment consisted of trombone solos by Arthur Warmington, accompanied by Norman Harvey, both of whom are guests at the local Y. M. C. A.; violin solos by George Evans, accompanied by Miss Adelaide Proctor, both of the conservatory of music of Los Angeles, and an address by George Warner Jr., a student at the junior college.

The student presented three points which, he said, convinced him that life is eternal, and made comments on each that supported his conviction.

Walkathon Crowd Sees Contestants In Slumber Scene

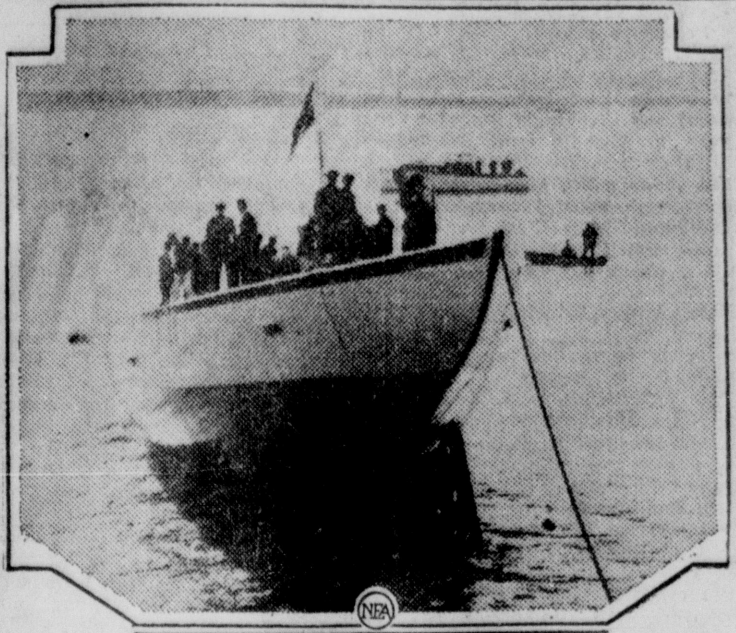

Last night with a large crowd in attendance the cots were brought to the floor in order that the spectators might see just what goes on behind the scenes during the rest periods at the Walkathon. The boys slept on the floor and it was noticed that they went to sleep immediately upon lying upon the bed. All of them were very tired and when the claxon sounded none of them awoke easily. Several put up a snappy fight until they were sufficiently aroused to know what was happening.

After a very strenuous night there still are nine couples in the Walkathon, after passing the 35th hour of continuous motion. How much longer the contest can go is up to the nine sleepy couples. They all say that they don't believe that they can go much longer. The grilling grind is taking its toll, and the process of elimination is bound to take its course. The American Legion Walkathon soon will be but a pleasant memory, it is predicted.

A new and very attractive program for the matinee has been arranged for each afternoon. Henry Polk and Earl Fagan are once more entertaining the women in the afternoon.

CUP DEFENDER LAUNCHED

Flashing green and white in the calm waters of Boston harbor, the trim sloop Whirlwind, largest of the prospective America's cup defenders, is pictured here as she was launched at Lawley's yard, Napa, Mass. The Whirlwind, built for a New York syndicate, is to compete with three other yachts for the honor of meeting Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock V, the British challenger for the prized America's cup.

GOVERNMENTAL COST TOPIC OF TALK BY FITTS

"Let us tear aside the political machine in Sacramento and put state government back upon its constitutional basis," said District Attorney Buron Fitts, of Los Angeles, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor of California, at the meeting of the Fullerton Rotary and Round Table clubs at noon yesterday in McFarland's cafe.

Fitts declared the present state government to be "bureaucratic, a top heavy system built for political purposes at a heavy and unnecessary expense to the taxpayers."

"Cost of government at Sacramento has increased 71 per cent in the past four years," Fitts stated. "Other than for political purposes there is no reason for such a huge increase. The tax burden today is unbearable. The state does not assess real property. When more money is needed for government, they tax the railroads. Increased rates result, which come back ultimately to the individual, reducing his profit."

The water situation was touched on by Fitts, who pointed out that in the past 12 years, the state has spent more than a million dollars in investigating the water situation, declaring that more actual work in conserving the water was needed, and less investigation.

The speaker stated that no state is more backward in penology than California. He pointed to San Quentin as the largest prison in the world and the greatest incubator of crime.

"I am a Californian and a taxpayer. I wish to do all within my power to make of this western empire on the Pacific coast the greatest in the world," concluded Fitts.

ELECT ABBOTT MASON AS NEW JAYSEE LEADER

Abbott Mason, prominent student at the Santa Ana junior college, was elected president of the Associated Students yesterday in a close race with John Keeler.

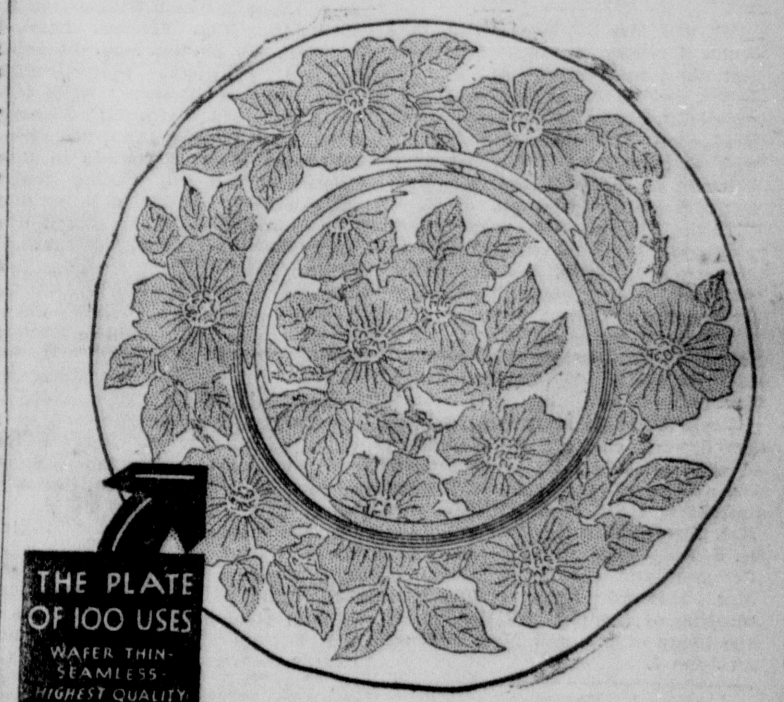

The contest for vice-president also was very close, resulting in the election of Warren Schutz in a race with Bill Reinhardt. Ada Marie Hendricksen won the position of secretary, while Tom Clark was victorious over Bruce Harbottle for treasurer.

Mason is now vice-president of the students, president of the O. K. club, member of Beta Gamma honorary society, honor society, Junior Lions, Tavern Tattlers, Algot staff, Press club, Alpha Rho Tau, treasurer of the Y. M. C. A., chairman of the college publicity committee and prominent in other college activities.

Schutz, the new vice-president, is commissioner of men's athletics, track letterman, Beta Gamma, senior exalted bachelor, newly elected

JUNIOR COLLEGE WOMEN HOLD ANNUAL BANQUET

Long tables gaily decorated with May poles, from which black and red streamers extended to each place, greeted women athletes at Ketner's cafe last evening, when they met for their annual banquet. Clever nut cups fashioned to resemble baseballs, with bats, as place cards were designed by Miss Maybelle Ball, and marked each place. Bowls of bright nasturtiums completed the color scheme.

Following dinner, Miss Catherine Walbridge, president of the Women's Athletic Association, introduced Miss Mary Ford, who acted as toastmaster for the evening. She in turn, introduced Miss Corinne Nelson, who played two piano solos. Miss June Arnold then gave several amusing readings and Miss Frances Harper, accompanied by Miss Adaruth Ellis, charmingly sang a soprano solo.

An entertaining debate, "Resolved, That medicine balls should be used in the game of baseball, instead of baseballs," followed. The affirmative side was taken by Miss Marian Parsons and Miss Katherine Spicer, while the negative side was upheld by Miss Agnes McKinstry and Miss Miriam Samuelson.

A presentation of letters by Mrs. William Foote, head junior college coach, and faculty advisor to the organization, followed. Those who received the black and red "S" for making a first team in some major sport for the first time included Miss Audrey Teel, Miss Evelyn Bair, Miss Mary Ford, Miss Elisabeth Hurd, Miss Helen Lee, Miss Agnes McKinstry, Miss Marian Parsons, Miss Lillian McDonald, Miss Katherine Spicer, Miss Rachel Smith, Miss Lurena Woods, Miss Marjory Walton, Miss Irene Whistler, Miss Gladys Earley, Miss Ruth Gardner, Miss Vivian Herr, Miss Jean Anderson, Miss Alice Steward and Miss Miriam Samuelson.

Emblems in swimming were awarded Marian Parsons, Louella Marshall, Lurena Woods, Margaret Wilson, Lavinia Olsen, and Marjorie Adams. The second team points were given Miss Adaruth Ellis and Miss Mildred Staples.

Maybelle Ball, Eleanor Metzgar, Corinne Nelson, Frances Larrabee, Audrey Teel, and Mary Ford, received points for first team in tennis, while Ruth Fitz and Helen Krone received points for second team. Freshmen making first team in baseball were Elisabeth Hurd, Audrey Teel, Jean Anderson, Ruth Fitz, Agnes McKinstry, Marjorie Walton, Gladys Earley, Helen Lee and Miriam Samuelson. ## Musical Artists Will Be Presented on Ebelle Program

Climaxing the affairs of the month in which Ebelle society has added to the entertainment and pleasure of her members, will be the program offered Monday afternoon in the clubhouse auditorium, when Madame Manuela V. Budrow, Santa Ana's own well-loved "Spanish Nightingale," and Alexander Kosloff, brilliant Russian pianist, and head of the piano department at Occidental college, will appear jointly on the program.

It is seldom given to Ebelle society to present two such artists on the same program, and the committee, composed of Mrs. Amy Chenoweth, Mrs. Clarence Gustin, Mrs. Loyal K. King, feels that it is privileged indeed in offering such entertainment.

For Madame Budrow, it will be like a home-coming, for despite the fact that her teaching and singing activities are now centered in Los Angeles, it was in Santa Ana that she reigned for a number of years. Alexander Kosloff's career began in his native Russia where he graduated from the Russian Conservatory of Music in Moscow in 1924, having studied under two of the greatest teachers of that artistic land, Kipp and Igumnoff. It will be of interest to those who will hear him Monday, to know that he is accomplished in other lines than music, for he is a graduate in law from the Moscow university.

During the Russian revolution, his artistic gifts were exempted from the regulations of ordinary citizens, and the government permitted him to leave the country in order to continue his career. He came to California by way of the Orient, and his musicianship was at once recognized in Pacific coast art circles, among his most important engagements being as soloist with the Los Angeles Philharmonic orchestra. He is now recognized as one of the leading pianists and teachers of the coast, while his mastery of the English language and a broad general education, make him equally in demand as a lecturer, especially on musical subjects.

Monday's program will open with a song group for Madame Budrow, with Mr. Kosloff as her accompanist, has chosen "Boats of Mine" by Stratton Miller: "The Love that Linketh Soul to Soul" by Liszt; "Flowers" by Florence Delphine; "Think of Me Sometimes" by Adele Freely; "Spring Welcome" by Clarence Gustin, and "Serenata" by the soloist herself.

It will be noted that three Santa Ana composers are recognized in this group—for of course the city still claims Mrs. Budrow, and her exquisitely graceful "Serenata" was written here where it is a prime favorite. Clarence Gustin's ability as a composer is recognized almost as widely as his talent as a pianist, while "Florence Delphine" is the name under which Mrs. Florence Hawkinson of West Second street, issues her songs, which include one of the prize-winners in the Santa Ana song contest.

Salter's dramatic "The Cry of Rachel" will be given by the soloist, after which Alexander Kosloff will play a piano group. His numbers will include the famous Rachmaninoff "Prelude in C sharp minor"; the "Valse Brillante" of Chopin, and "La Campanella" by Liszt.

For her final group, Madame Budrow will sing Laurita's "Arabian Song" by special request; her own "Ben, la Noche es Bella" (Come, the Night is Fair) and "El Banderero."

Joe Volmer of San Bernardino, spent yesterday in Santa Ana with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Baines and children of Portland, Ore., arrived here this week to make their home in Orange county. Mr. Baines has purchased a service station at Orange. Mrs. Baines was a former resident of this city, and is a member of a pioneer family here. Before her marriage she was Grace Prather and is a niece of the late Mrs. Sarah Ross.

Miss Lula Rime who has been visiting relatives in the east for the past year, returned home yesterday. Miss Rime who lives in the home of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Rime, 931 South Ross street, spent several months in Mankato, Minn., with her sister and some time in Roanoke, Va., and in Florida. She returned to California by the way of New Orleans, staying for several days in that city.

Yuma Wedding Revealed At Evening Party Of S. S. Class

Last night's informal announcement of the wedding in Yuma on May 4, of Miss Ann Henderson, a sister of Mrs. Howard Shugart, 305 Fruit street, and Fred S. Johnson, of the Orange County Title company, was the first intimation of the happy fact given to Mrs. Merceure's Sunday school class of young women, of which Mrs. Johnson has long been a member.

The announcement was made at one of the class parties, held in the home of Mrs. Ralph Cole, 313 South Sycamore street, where Mrs. Cole had the assistance of a hostess committee composed of Mrs. Amy Chenoweth, Mrs. Helen Decker, Mrs. Aletta Cole, Mrs. Beth Criddle, Mrs. Edna Olmstead, Mrs. Esther Eberold, Mrs. Estella McFarren, and the Misses Grace Brennecke and Ruth Campbell.

The party was a gay and informal one, to which the wedding news added the final touch of pleasure. It was Mrs. Shugart's privilege to reveal the secret and tell details of the motor trip to Yuma, when she and her husband accompanied the happy couple. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson will be at home to their friends at 601 South Main street.

Other enjoyable features of the evening included songs and recitations by a very talented small boy, Master George Olmstead, not yet four years old, but so gifted that he entertained the entire crowd of adults when presented by his mother, Mrs. Edna Olmstead, one of the hostesses.

Class members brought their needlework, but there was small opportunity for sewing, because of the various entertainment features, one of which was the showing of baby pictures by means of a projecting machine, while everyone guessed the identity of each in turn.

Late in the evening everyone enjoyed the delicious strawberry shortcake which was the main feasted amidst the colorful blossoms adorning the home.

There was a large attendance at the party, including in addition to members of the hostess committee and the teacher, Mrs. L. D. Merceure, Mrs. Gertrude Waldron, Fern Barnes, Mrs. Gertrude Smith, Mrs. Betty Randle, Mrs. Frances Nall, Mrs. Lucile Tuft, Mrs. Helen Smock, Harriet Gates, Miss Ruth Griffith, Mrs. Dorothy Gibson, Mrs. Muriel Masin, Mrs. Georgia Sherill, Mrs. Fleda Van Deusen, Miss Gladys Thomas, Laura Nelson, Miss Edna Gammell, Miss Florence McCarthy, Myrtle G. Hynes, Mrs. Dorcas Alexander, Mrs. Eleanor Blythe, Bencie Bladen, Janice Turner, Mrs. Martie Lackaye, Helen Edwards, Miss Betty Burnham, Miss Babe Morgan, Stella Swartz, Mrs. Helen Rowley, Mrs. Helen Moomaw, Mrs. Elizabeth Shugart, Mrs. Olive Jones, Marguerite Cook, Mrs. Isabelle Wade, Dora McClellan, Louise Chapin, Mrs. Lorne Prunty, Mrs. Eunice Burns, Mrs. Marie Smith, Mrs. Charlotte Gammell, Miss Juanita Snyder, Mrs. Ann Johnson, Miss Myrtle Abplanalp.

Van Antwerp Employees Honor Mrs. Powell At Park Party

Complimenting Mrs. Jeannette Powell of the toilet goods department of the Van Antwerp store, was a steak bake and park party given last night by employees of the store, who motored to Irvine park for the event.

Mrs. Powell, who for over a year has been the Ardath demonstrator at the store, is leaving early in June for her home in St. Paul, Minn., and the park party was planned as a farewell event for her. The juicy steaks were prepared on the grills provided for picnickers, and enjoyed with salads and other appetizing fare taken by the merry-makers, on the tables spread beneath the liveoaks.

Mrs. Powell has made many friends during her stay in Santa Ana, who regret that she is returning to her Minnesota home. Her fellow employees of the Van Antwerp store, expressed their friendliness in pleasant manner by presenting her with a box of fine silk hosiery during the course of the evening party.

Auxiliary Glee Club Prepares for Many Appearances

With only a week and a half left of the "Merry month of May," members of the Legion Auxiliary Glee club and their director, Cecil Fross Willis, find practically all their time taken up with rehearsals for various engagements which are facing them as the month draws to a close.

First on this calendar of interesting vocal events, will be their contribution to the Sunday morning services of the First Baptist church, whose pastor, the Rev. Harry Evan Owings, and congregation, will welcome all members of the American Legion and Legion auxiliary as special guests. The Glee club will sing several numbers at this time.

Tuesday, May 27, has been named as the date of the twentieth district meeting which will be held in Hollywood at the Legion clubhouse of that city, and the Santa Ana singing club has been asked to take charge of the evening program.

On the following day, Wednesday, May 28, the Santa Ana auxiliary will have the unique honor of entertaining the national president, Mrs. Mary MacRae of Council Bluffs, Ia., at 1 o'clock luncheon in St. Ann's Inn. And again the choristers will be called upon to add entertainment to the function. This will be the sole luncheon for Mrs. MacRae in the Southland, as her engagements are such as to make it impossible for her to attend others, so the local auxiliary members feel especially happy in being privileged to entertain her. Mrs. MacRae's husband, Dr. MacRae, was one of the most noted surgeons when the boys were in France.

Quiet Wedding Takes Place Last Night

Mrs. Martha McCullah, and Joseph Carr, both of this city, were married at a quiet wedding which took place last night in the home of the Rev. James Sewell, pastor of the Church of Christ, the Rev. Mr. Sewell reading the service.

The bride, who is a striking brunette, was frocked in pink flat crepe with accessories of beige. The young couple were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Davies. Mrs. Davies wore a gown of sand colored flat crepe.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Carr have lived in this city for a number of years and they will establish their new home here at 110 South Broadway, on their return from a brief honeymoon.

Afternoon Party Is Enjoyed by Club

Mrs. Orlyn Robertson entertained her dessert-bridge club at her home on Riverside Drive, yesterday afternoon. Members and guests filled three tables. Pansy-faced violas and pansies centered the tables for the refreshment course which preceded bridge. Mrs. Robert Mize was presented with the prize when the scores were added.

Mrs. Harry Huffman and Mrs. William J. Stauffer were guests. The members present were: Mrs. J. L. McFadden, Mrs. John Wehrly, Mrs. Fred Newcomb, Mrs. Robert Mize, Mrs. G. K. Soovel, Mrs. Loyal K. King, Mrs. Leslie Wallace, Mrs.

Clarence Nisson and Mrs. Cassius Paul.

An Ailing CHILD

Are you prepared to render first aid and quick comfort the moment your youngster has an upset of any sort? Could you do the right thing—immediately—though the emergency came without warning—perhaps tonight? Castoria is a mother's standby at such times. There is nothing like it in emergencies, and nothing better for everyday use. For a sudden attack of colic, or the gentle relief of constipation; to allay a feverish condition, or to soothe a fretful baby that can't sleep. This pure vegetable preparation is always ready to ease an ailing youngster. It is just as harmless as the recipe on the wrapper reads. If you see Chas. H. Fletcher's signature, it is genuine Castoria. It is harmless to the smallest infant; doctors will tell you so. You can tell from the recipe on the wrapper how mild it is, and how good for little systems. But continue with Castoria until a child is grown.

WHIPPED CREAM HO RSERADISH SAUCE

Today I am giving another requested recipe, this time for making a horseradish sauce with whipped cream as one of its ingredients. For extra good measure I am going to give two ways of making it, one with freshly grated horseradish, the other made with the bottled horseradish. But let me digress a bit—

Did you ever grate horseradish—by hand? As a tear bringer it has onions beaten forty ways! Here is the best way to get the briny business over with: peel the roots, cut in convenient pieces and run through the fine knife of the food chopper. Mix with a little good vinegar and salt.

This recipe is for the freshly made horseradish before the vinegar is added:

Add to 6 tablespoons of grated horseradish 1 egg yolk and 1/2 teaspoon of salt. Mix thoroughly, add 1 teaspoon of strong vinegar, and then carefully fold into the horseradish 1/2 cup of heavy cream whipped stiff. Chill well before using and mix close to using time.

And here is the way this sauce is made, using the bottled horseradish:

Press 3 tablespoons of prepared horseradish as dry as possible, combine it with 1/2 cup of whipped cream, 1/2 teaspoon of salt, a dash of paprika and 1/2 tablespoons of vinegar added just before the sauce is sent to the table.

This sauce is splendid served with roast beef, hot or cold, lamb, or corned beef.

TODAY'S RECIPE CURRIED LOBSTER

1 can lobster
1 large apple
1 onion, medium size
5 tablespoons curry powder
Dash of cayenne pepper
1 1/2 cups of rich cream sauce
Salt to season nicely

As given today, this recipe is ideal for the formal dinner entree. And by the way, why not make Perfect tea at a most reasonable price.

I. O. O. F. Picnic Will Be Held Sunday

Santa Ana Odd Fellows and members of the Rebekah lodges, are anticipating the postponed May picnic outing of the I. O. O. F. orders to be held in Shell park on Sunday, May 25. This picnic was first announced for May 4, but the rains of the early part of the month, made it necessary to postpone it until a later date.

The same plans for entertainment of the crowds expected from all sections of the Southland, and especially from this district, will be carried out at the postponed event, with C. H. Marcher of this city to have charge of the afternoon games and contests. Those attending for the full day with their well-filled picnic baskets, will find hot coffee, sugar and cream, and food lemonade furnished free by the Odd Fellows.

STARS FEATURED IN 'HAPPY DAYS'

With its 125 dancing girls and singers, its 100 stars and entertainers of stage and screen, many of which are outstanding in the motion picture business, "Happy Days," which has been here since Monday, continues its run at the Fox West Coast theater today and tomorrow.

Entertainment marks the picture from start to finish. Although there are hundreds of entertainers, the picture is not a review, but a film where all the stars get a chance to "do their stuff," it being woven into a romantic and heart touching story of an old minstrel, whose show is taken away from him at Memphis by the sheriff.

In his greatest hour of need, he finds that his friends of the show business have not forgotten him. They gather in hands to stage a benefit performance for him, and they do it in such a big way that he is made independent for life.

A love story runs through the performance with Richard Keene and Marjorie White as the principals.

Lavish costumes, beautiful scenery, dances and songs that will be remembered a long time, and comedy furnished by four men unequalled in the show business, are some of the outstanding things about "Happy Days." Will Rogers, Walter Catlett, El Brendel and William Collier furnish the fun, while Victor McLaglen and Edmund Lowe put on a scene that keeps the audience howling with glee. Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell are seen in a specialty number.

'MADAME X' WILL CLOSE RUN TODAY

"Madame X," a favorite of great actors and of the theater-going public alike, has been translated into a new entertainment medium, the talking film, and in that guise will be seen for the last time tonight at Walker's State theater.

The picture is a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production. It was directed by Lionel Barrymore, the famous stage and screen actor.

Ruth Chatterton, who left the theater, where she had gained an enviable reputation as a dramatic and a musical comedy star, to enter the films at the time the talking picture made its appearance, plays the title role, a role originally created on the French stage by Sarah Bernhardt.

The remainder of the cast also is noteworthy. Lewis Stone plays the husband of the tragic and mysterious woman and Raymond Hackett plays her son, who, as a young attorney, defends her when she goes on trial for murder.

'DIVORCEE' TO CLOSE TONIGHT

Closing tonight after a four-day run at the Fox Broadway theater, "The Divorcee," starring Norma Shearer in her latest all-talking Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer production, has been one of the most popular pictures that has been seen here in the past several months.

Due to the strong plot and the heavy drama of the show, a picture that has caused hundreds of Santa Ana women to shed tears over the predicament in which they find Jerry, the divorced wife, the film has been immensely popular here.

"The Divorcee" is the story of a young bride who finds her husband is not true to her. She calls him into her room, informs him that she is through with him, but that in the future, she too will lead a fast life and that her door never will be closed to any other man, except him.

Then she divorces him, and starts

Radio To Provide Phone Service In Canadian Area

HUGE PROJECT WILL HOOK UP TINY VILLAGES

VICTORIA, B. C., May 22.—Spanning the Atlantic ocean by radiotelephone is a Lilliputian effort compared with the project now being undertaken by the B. C. Telephone Co.

A maze of radiotelephone stations, hooking up a network of telephone lines and cables, will shortly be put into operation throughout the province of British Columbia. It will be the first network of its kind in the world.

It will give isolated settlements telephonic communication not only with Victoria, Vancouver and New Westminster, the commercial centers of the province, but also with London, Rome, New York and other world capitals.

Necessity has been said to be the mother of invention and nothing could be truer than in this case. Faced with the problem of giving outlandish settlements proper communication facilities, over rugged mountain ranges, void of highways or railways, the company solved its problem by securing from the federal government permission to use several low wave lengths.

With this permission granted it secured the right from the provincial government to operate a radiotelephone service. Thus a communication network that would otherwise have been beyond the cost that any large company would care to go to, has been mapped out and the first link in the system completed.

Settlements bordering on the Peace river district, which is still waiting patiently for a railway to the coast, will be able to talk to the outside world.

The plan is to establish at these settlements radio telephone stations, and where it is practicable give the town a domestic telephone service.

The radiotelephone office will be used to put through long distance calls to Vancouver or any other point in the province which has a telephone system or radio office.

By this means the cost of erecting telephone lines over almost impassable mountains is eliminated. A person living in the extreme northeast portion of the province could talk to London via a radiotelephone hookup to Powell River, thence by radio again to Vancouver island, by telephone lines to Nanaimo, thence by cable to Vancouver, from Vancouver to New York by telephone lines once

'HUMAN ENGINEER'

Vincent Lopez, popular orchestra conductor and radio artist, has for his hobby a deep interest in trying to analyze humanity on the basis of mathematics. Life runs in cycles of nine years, according to Lopez, who points to his own career to illustrate his belief. The year 1921 was his "number one" year and 1929, when he won a big contract, was his "number nine" year. He now is in his number one year again he says.

RUDY, OSBORNE COUNTESS HAS SEEK HONOR AS FIRST CROONER AS RADIO STAR

NEW YORK, May 22.—The big question which remains unsettled in radio circles, despite the competitive efforts of Broadway press agents, is:

Who originated the gentle art of crooning?

It was only a little over three years ago when crooning was first heard on the air. At that time radio fans began to notice that several radio-dance bands were playing a slow tempo. Also a change in vocal selections was noticed.

The new rhythm caught on. It was adopted all over the country. Two of the leading dance band leaders of the day are trying to take credit for originating this style of singing. Rudy Vallee, the masculine equivalent of "It," claims it. And so does Will Osborne, another noted radio band leader.

But while these two gentlemen are in the midst of their argument, other characters had been crooning before Osborne or Vallee were ever heard on the air.

There's Guy Lombardo, who played a slow tempo probably before anyone else on the air.

Who hasn't heard Little Jack Little croon? He, too, was on the air with his whispered solos long before the debuts of Vallee and Osborne.

Ten years ago, when Vaughn de Leath, the "Original Radio Girl," broke into radio, she introduced crooning.

Vallee does not claim to be the originator of crooning, but he does stress the fact that his style of radio broadcasting and his voice over the air are distinctive of none but himself. Osborne avers that while he was working on the gentle art another leader happened along and stole his thunder.

NEW YORK, May 22.—When the Countess Olga Medolago Albani steps up to the microphone in one of her many radio recitals, the royalty to which she was born gives way to the royalty of the air.

For the Countess Albani, of true Spanish nobility, feels more at home in a radio studio than she would in a castle. In fact, she would even forego the castle for the kitchen if she had to leave the studio. For the kitchen is only second to radio among her favorite diversions.

The Countess Albani traces her lineage in Spain back hundreds of years even before the time of Columbus and Queen Isabella. But she doesn't care to trade on her title, even though it might make good box office material.

Though she looks the typical maiden of Spain, she feels more an American than a Spaniard. True, she was born in a castle in Barcelona, but her parents brought her to America at an early age and gave her a private schooling in New York. At the same time they trained her in music at home.

She studied music for several years and then, much to the horror of her parents, entered the theater. After gaining fame as star in "The New Moon," she got the radio fever.

She has been with the National Broadcasting company a year, and in that time has developed quite a following of fans. Now she is featured in some of the most important programs on the NBC network.

Tentative plans have been made to star the countess in a series of all-Spanish talking pictures, for export abroad.

But all the fame she has achieved will not take her away from the kitchen, for of all her activities she makes cooking her hobby.

POPE TO GIVE RADIO SPEECH

VATICAN CITY, May 22.—Every wireless amateur on June 29 next will be able to get a message from His Holiness Pius XI. It will be a brief communication in which the pope launches throughout the spaces an appeal for peace and international love between all nations.

This message will be sent by the new wireless plant of Vatican City, which it is hoped to be in working order before the end of June. The opening of the new station has been tentatively scheduled for June 29, that being the St. Peter and St. Paul day. After the pope message to the whole world, the station will send out messages to all the sovereigns and chiefs of states having diplomatic relations with the Holy See. Afterwards well wishing messages will be addressed to all wireless stations operated by missionaries in Alaska, Tokio, etc.

Flowers have been associated with weddings for thousands of years. Orange blossoms have always been the most-used wedding flower and are supposed to portend luck and happiness.

ADVISE ANNOUNCER ON FOREIGN WORDS

LONDON, May 22.—To aid its announcers and actors in the correct pronunciation of difficult and disputed words, the British Broadcasting company has secured the services of Dr. C. T. Onions, editor of the Oxford Dictionary, and Professor Lascelles Abercrombie.

These two men, through the advisory committee on spoken English, will tell the BBC what pronunciation of certain doubtful words shall be used by announcers. And an announcer runs into many foreign words in his native tongue that are difficult to speak correctly.

Cleveland Radio Owners Violate Law On Permits

CLEVELAND, May 22.—(UP)—Thousands of Cleveland radio owners are violating the law every day and are liable to fines of $10 to $100 for every day's violation. It was revealed here when a city engineer pointed out an obscure section of the municipal code.

The code requires that anyone erecting an outside radio aerial must take out a permit costing 50 cents. Each day an aerial remains up without a permit constitutes a separate offense, the ordinance provides.

BEFORE THE MIKE

The voice of the good-looking gentleman who poses for collar ads is now available on the air. He's Joseph Shovlin, baritone soloist for WGBS, New York. He's also a model for James Montgomery Flagg.

Musical comedy has given radio many entertainers, but few program managers. Alexis Sanderson is one of the latter who left the comedy stage for radio. He's program manager of WGBS, New York, and much of the recent improvement in the station is credited to him. He is recording artist and singer in eight languages. In addition to the stage, he has appeared in the movies, having been featured in French and Russian films.

America is for Americans, and American radio must be American, according to Bob Poole, one of the guiding lights of WFFA, Dallas Texas. Accordingly, he has issued a mandate that all foreign music titles, where possible, be translated into English so that listeners can understand what they are listening to.

Peter MacArthur, probably better known as "Bobby Burns of the Air," and formerly an announcer and entertainer at WOC, Davenport, Ia., is now one of the "head men" at KFLV, Rockford, Ill. Pete, as well as being business manager of the station, announces and sings Scotch character songs. He has a background of over 25 years in light opera, drama and musical comedy.

New series on the air: "Contrasts," WBBM, Chicago, Thursdays at 6:45 EST. "Cedar Time," CBS, Tuesdays at 8:30 a. m. EST. "Plane of Dreams," NBC Red network, Mondays at 9 EST.

again and hook up with the trans-Atlantic radiotelephone to London. A circuitous route it is true, but nevertheless taking only a matter of a few minutes to accomplish.

The nature of the province demanded such a system. In area it is larger than the states of Washington, Oregon and California combined and yet has a population only as large as San Francisco.

When this perspective of conditions in British Columbia is grasped it can readily be seen that to erect a costly system of telephone lines would be impracticable. At the same time communication is essential to the development of the province.

The first link in the new system has been completed. Two radiotelephone services have been established, one at Powell River and the other at Campbell River, Vancouver Island. Thus the laying of expensive cable has been eliminated. Other stations will shortly

UNIQUE WET-DRY POLL UNDER WAY

By NEA Service
CLEVELAND, May 22.—A radio-wet-dry poll, different from anything ever attempted on the air, is being staged by WJAY here. The poll gives the listeners a chance to express their opinions.

It consists of presenting representatives of the Dry Maintenance league and the Crusaders, an anti-prohibition organization, in debate form on Mondays and Tuesdays. In this way both sides of the question are put before the listeners.

Then the fans are sent regular straw-vote ballots on which they are asked to mark whether they favor modification, prohibition as it is, or repeal of the amendment. The station surveys listeners' opinions both before and after the debate series on the air.

A new ironing board is intended to be hinged to the under side of beds that fold out of sight into recesses in hotel or apartment rooms.

be established, completing one of the most ambitious schemes of communication yet undertaken in any part of the world.

MAN WITHSTANDS 6600 VOLT JOLT

ROSEDALE, Cal., May 22.—(INS)—Here's one fellow who ought not to fear the electric chair.

James Wirley, 27, ranch worker, who was carrying a pipe around with him when he permitted it to touch a high-tension wire. Instantly a 6600-volt electrical charge surged through his body. But James Wirley merely shrugged his shoulders and walked away.

What was 6600 volts in his life? Just another bit of electricity gone wild.

Wirley then showed his contempt for the way he was treated by calmly lighting a cigarette.

Yes, here's one fellow who oughtn't to fear the electric chair.

Stella Farnsworth, women's first; Mrs. Henry Luther, second; H. Stennet, first for men, and Albert Stennet, second.

Announcement of a card party to be given on next Saturday evening at the clubhouse is made by the auxiliary. Fourteen prizes are to be awarded and everyone is welcome to attend. The party is being given as a benefit for the clubhouse improvement fund.

Here's A Red Hot Tip For Men With Big Waistlines

Safe Way to Get Rid of Surplus Fat and At the Same Time Gain in Vigor, Energy and Mental Activity—Feel Younger.

NEW YORK MAN TELLS CONCISE STORY TO FAT MEN

Yes, Gentlemen: Writes W. R. Daniels, of Richmond Hill—"I have finished my second bottle of Kruschen Salts and have obtained the following results:"

- 1—"I have removed 3 inches from the belt line.
- 2—"Get up in the morning feeling 100 per cent.
- 3—"I am 25% more active.
- 4—"My mind is clearer.
- 5—"My wind has improved 25%.
- 6—"All skin eruptions have disappeared.
- 7—"My face and lips have color.
- 8—"When I go to bed I am motionless—sleep like a brick.
- 9—"Am 46 years old and feel 20 years younger."

Millions of men the world over are taking the little daily dose of Kruschen because they know that it keeps them everlastingly feeling fit and active—life really becomes a glorified adventure—well worth living.

Don't confuse Kruschen with the ordinary salts that are made for just one purpose (to act on the bowels).

Keep everlastingly before you the fact that Kruschen contains the six vital rejuvenating salts that nature put into the human body at the beginning of creation and these 6 minerals your body must have or you could not live.

How would you like to get your weight down to normal and at the same time develop that urge for activity that makes work a pleasure and also gain in ambition and keenness of mind?

Get on the scales today and see how much you weigh—then get an 85 cent bottle of Kruschen Salts which will last you for 4 weeks. Take one-half teaspoonful in a glass of hot water every morning—cut down on sweets for a while—take the exercise which Kruschen will induce—persist in this method every morning of your life and when you have finished the contents of this first bottle weigh yourself again.

Now you can laugh at people who pay hundreds of dollars to lose a few pounds of fat—now you will know the pleasant way to lose unsightly fat and you'll also know that the 6 vitalizing salts of Kruschen (Salts that your blood, nerves and glands must have to function properly)—have presented you with glorious health.

After that you'll want to walk around and say to your friends—"One 85 cent bottle of Kruschen Salts is worth one hundred dollars of any fat person's money."

Leading druggists all over the world sell Kruschen Salts—you can always get it at Mateer's Drug Store, which sells dozens of packages every week.

IN THE HARD TEST OF DAILY USE CYCOL WINS THE WEST

NO cheering crowds surround the bus motor that comes unscored through 60,000 grueling miles. No checkered flag flashes WIN to the tractor snaking logs through the mud. No sport page heralds your own motor when the speedometer trips miles past the change-oil mark—trouble-free.

But by winning these every-day tests, Cycol has earned the solid faith of thousands of users. Cycol has won the West. In spite of new oils that come and go, in the face of clamorous claims of competitors—the use of Cycol increases.

These five steps make these truths possible:

1. The new Edeleanu treatment process removes 14% more impurities than does the commonly used acid-treating method—hence Cycol gives more lubrication—more protection for your motor. Cycol is a pure oil.
2. Cycol is distilled under high vacuum methods. No vital elements are weakened. All fractions are uniform. Cycol will not evaporate, thin, or break down.
3. The closest of fractionation during distillation rejects light volatile fractions and heavy, gummy elements. No motor oil forms less carbon than Cycol Motor Oil.
4. Cycol is made only from specially selected crude oils. They are separately transported and separately stored at the refinery.
5. Only the "heart cut"—the first choice crudes—are used in making Cycol.

Cycol gives complete, unfailing lubrication, yet no oil is more economical, for Cycol has "Endurance Beyond Belief." The price of Cycol is but 25 cents per quart.

WOMAN'S PART IN AVIATION IS TOPIC OF CLUB

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, May 22.—The Woman's club was entertained Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Paul H. Essing, with Mrs. Carl Romer and Mrs. Carl Hankey as assistant hostesses. The meeting, which was sponsored by the literary section of the club, was attended by over 30 members and friends. An interesting program was given, the general theme being, "Woman's Part in Aviation." Mrs. Ferris Kelly read a review of the history of women in aviation from its early days until the present, and Mrs. E. M. Nise gave an interesting account of Lady Heath's flight from Capetown to England.

Plans were made for the trip which the club will make to the Huntington library June 17, reservations for 50 members having been made by the home economics section, which is sponsoring the visit.

A silver tea will be given under the supervision of the literary section at the home of Mrs. Carl Hankey June 10. Proceeds will be used in the clubhouse fund.

The club was presented with its new year book, which carries a general short history of the organization, the first officers and the charter membership list, as well as the present membership roll of more than 50 members, and the dates and topics for meetings during the present year. Mrs. C. Russell Cook, president of the club, gave a short talk on the compiling of the year book, and its value to the organization. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

RANCHER RECEIVES $573 FOR AVOCADOS

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, May 22.—J. Roy Smith, rancher of this vicinity has received a check from a Los Angeles commission house for $573 in payment for some 800 pounds of avocados sold recently from his ranch west of town. The fruit, which was of the Fuerte variety, averaged 70 cents per pound.

Several months ago Mr. Smith's orange grove was written up in Citigraph as the finest grove of its size and years in the world. His avocado orchard promises to rank equally in the near future. In this orchard are found 200 seven-year-old avocado trees, two-thirds of them being Fuertes, and the rest Sharpless variety. The trees are in fine condition and produce heavy, bringing their grower top market price.

Laguna Man To Open New Cafe

NEWPORT BEACH, May 22.—A. A. Todd, proprietor of the Las Ondas cafe in Laguna Beach, is opening a new cafe, El Portal, in the new Walker-Hamann building at Surf and Main streets, Balboa. Todd will have a la carte service in his establishment.

Hotel rooms and apartments are on the upper floor of the building with stores on the lower floor.

PROPOSITIONS EXPLAINED FOR EXCHANGE CLUB

NEWPORT BEACH, May 22.—Mayor Mark Johnson, a member of the Newport Beach Exchange club, explained at yesterday's meeting of the club, held at the Newport Harbor Yacht club, the two propositions to be placed before the voters of this city next Wednesday. The Exchange club, the chamber of commerce, women's clubs and various other organizations desire to get out a large vote on the two propositions.

The votes will be on the proposal to create a park fund of three cents per $100 for acquisition, maintenance and improvement of parks, including beach frontage in the city and to annex to the city two small parcels of land north of the city limits. Apparently there is no opposition to the annexation proposition, both parcels of land being at present uninhabited and it being necessary now for the city to pay taxes on the land to the county. When the land is annexed the city will not have to pay any taxes to the county. In addition they will be subject to city building and other regulations. One parcel has been leased to J. A. Beck for 25 years and a big development has been started, which probably will result in considerable building within the next few years.

The park fund proposal has been strongly supported by women's organizations and the chamber of commerce. Owing to this being a residential and recreational city, park improvements will make it a more desirable city to live in and a "city beautiful," it was declared.

Lucille Huston, Ruth LaLonde, Beverly Cogswell and Marguerite Cogswell, of the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company at Santa Ana, entertained the club with vocal numbers and were given a rising vote of thanks.

The Rev. A. F. Hasse, of Costa Mesa, a guest, complimented Newport Beach on its progressiveness and said that this city and Costa Mesa are destined to be one community, the high school and other things now drawing them closer together than ever.

Jerry Freeman, new manager of the Balboa inn, was another guest.

MESA GROUP HOLDS PARK BRIDGE PARTY

COSTA MESA, May 22.—The Wednesday Bridge club winners in the series of games played during the past six months, entertained the losers with a picnic held at Irvine Park Wednesday. The guests had many surprises, the place, the manner of entertaining and the lunch were all kept a mystery.

Three tables of bridge were played at the park, with Mrs. John Cooper receiving high score and Miss Alice C. Plummer, low. Prizes were given to the six guests, and Mrs. W. H. Guthrie, Mrs. W. H. Evans, Mrs. P. C. Lillard and Mrs. Sadie Patton. The members who entertained were Mrs. E. N. Gage, Mrs. L. R. Daughenbaugh, Mrs. R. A. Wellington, Mrs. H. R. Fuller, and Mrs. M. O. Wells.

LAGUNA BEACH, May 22.—The first miniature golf course along the south coast, probably closest to the ocean to be found anywhere in the state, opened this week when E. S. Wallace announced that the new lawn on his nine-hole course was ready. The location is on Coast boulevard at the corner of Jasmine, extending back to Cliff drive, giving frontage on three streets, and looking out upon Heisler park along the ocean front.

Mr. Wallace is well known here, having conducted the Sandwich Mill cafe for several years. About a year ago he sold to Mrs. Elmer Hutchings and moved to Oakland. Upon the death of Mrs. Wallace he decided to return to this city.

Quick Pile Relief

No Salves or Cutting

Pile sufferers can only get quick, safe and lasting relief by removing the cause—bad blood circulation in the lower bowel. Cutting and salves can't do this—an internal remedy must be used. HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leonard, succeeds, because it removes this blood congestion and strengthens the affected parts.

WILDCAT WELL AT H. B. BEING DRILLED DEEPER

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 22.—The Barnsdall Oil company is drilling deeper into the sand on the Newland-Borchard wildcat, which caused quite an oil flurry on the east side during April and led major oil companies to protect themselves with leases in the district. Barnsdall officials say the well contains 80 feet of as fine oil sand as they have ever seen in California fields.

The Barnsdall company wants to set a combination string at the well and in having an argument with the mining bureau in regard to the question of a proper water shut-off, or proper method of water shut-off. The details of the plans for handling the well are not available, but probably contemplate a cement job lower down in the well than the former job. This plan might be opposed by the mining bureau unless it was positively established that water was not entering the well from some of the upper sands.

In a wildcat well oil companies sometimes do not shut off upper formations as soon as an oil showing is found. They drill into the oil formation to determine whether or not it is worth a production trial. This was the condition twice on the east side, the company trying the same plan a couple of years ago and Barnsdall repeating the same stunt with the Newland-Borchard well. Later the oil formation grew better with depth and the companies inserted one string of casing and attempted a cement job.

In both instances the cement jobs were failures. The mining bureau made the Brower company fill the well from top to bottom with cement. The pipe was ripped and cement forced out every 300 feet until no water entered the well. To the credit of the mining bureau it saved the deep sand on the east side as was proven when two years later Barnsdall drilling about 600 feet from the old Brower well found what is believed to be the same sand.

The Superior-Babbitt in the town lot zone of the west side is being flowed with a compressor and is a good well. It is claimed the well is now doing around 500 barrels every 24 hours. As a result there is plenty of interest in west side town lots. If they are located close to the ocean, or within the first three blocks of the ocean. The idea that prevails here is that wells within three blocks of the ocean can be slanted in the drilling until the bottom of the hole is at the edge of the bluff where the Standard has wells that have been flowing for two years or more.

A peculiar condition prevails at one of the Frank Bundy wells on the Methodist camp ground near Orange and Thirteenth streets. The well, an indifferent producer, but having an erratic gas flow that caused frequent bridging and sanding, suddenly threw a bridge this week that increased the gas flow through the tubing and also the oil flow. The well has tripled its production. It is a pumper but Mr. Bundy stated this week that when agitated the well flowed by heads. It is in the shallow sand, producing low gravity oil, but has become through its own efforts quite a profitable well.

FLYING FACTS PRESENTED FOR LAGUNA BOARD

LAGUNA BEACH, May 22.—How commercial flying is being safeguarded and some of the methods employed to expand its practical advantages were told by the Laguna board Tuesday noon at the luncheon at the White House cafe by Hugh Shippey of the Western Air Express. Roy W. Peacock, president of the board, introduced the speaker and gave some statistics regarding aerial transportation.

Fear, he said, was the chief obstacle to be overcome in the public mind, fear of height and of speed as much as fear of accident. That ships flown by his company covered 5,000,000 miles and carried 40,000 passengers in four years without accident he gave as proof that the danger of accident is not great.

Of the methods and devices employed to reduce hazards, he told of the repeated inspections given passenger planes, duplicated by mechanics before each trip and again by pilots. He explained the network of weather observing stations, 40 being between Los Angeles and San Francisco, with reports given at intervals varying from half an hour to three hours, and the system of location permitting forecasts as great as five hours ahead.

The use of radio devices which act as invisible buoys to give location, and of direction radio signals which form lanes for the flyers, an altimeter being perfected which gives not only altitude above the sea, but also above land, and of the perfection of devices so that a pilot may rely exclusively on instruments, as has been done under test, was explained to the audience.

BEGIN HERE TODAY

From the floor of a lake on the Berkeley estate, Detective Dundee lifts the body of lovely Doris Matthews, lady's maid, grimly announcing "Murder!" to his fellow guest, Seymour Crosby.

It is seven o'clock of a Saturday morning in September. Friday evening in the Berkeley home had been so unpleasant that Dundee, invited to Hillcrest by young Dick Berkeley for the week-end, had had premonitions of disaster. In the household are: Mr. and Mrs. Berkeley, the latter a vulgar, snobbish social-climber; Dick, tipsy profligate; Clorinda, engaged to Crosby, a New York society widow; Gigi, 15-year-old sub-deb; Mrs. Lambert, social secretary to Mrs. Berkeley and a close friend of Crosby's; Wickett, the butler, and Eugene Arnold, chauffeur, Doris's fiancé.

Before sleeping Dundee had puzzled over several questions: Why is Clorinda marrying Crosby when she is still in love with John Maxwell? Why did Clorinda steal out of the house after 11? Why did Gigi snatch the crystal flask of perfume, presented to her mother by Crosby, and sprinkle all the guests with it? Did Doris meet Dick Berkeley late at night as he had forced her to promise? How late did Mr. and Mrs. Berkeley quarrel over Clorinda's engagement in the library? And now, who killed Doris Matthews by striking her over the head with that perfume flask, whose odor pervades the summerhouse? Dundee summons Capt. Strawn of the Homicide Squad.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER VIII

"Hello! Dundee speaking. Connect me with Captain Strawn's home, please," the young detective said, in a low voice when Police Headquarters had answered. A minute or two later, after his chief's sleepy growl had come over the wire, Dundee recounted the discovery of Doris Matthews' murder in as few words as possible.

"Murder at Hillcrest!" Strawn interrupted early in the recital. "You didn't get bored with nothing to do, and kill the girl yourself, did you, Bonnie?"

But when the brief story was finished Captain Strawn was not in a jocular mood. He issued orders grimly: "Get back on the scene of the crime immediately, and don't let Crosby out of your sight till I arrive. You say the butler's with him now? Good! See that nothing's touched, and for God's sake, don't spread the alarm through the house. . . . And say, lie low, Dundee! Don't give yourself away as a detective. As a guest in the house, forcibly detained there by the police, you may be a lot of help, just as you were in the Rhodes House murders."

Dundee grinned faintly as he "yesed" every order of his chief. "A lot of help" in the Rhodes House murders, indeed! He'd solved that case practically single-handed, hadn't he? And Lieutenant Strawn had become Captain Strawn as a result! But what did credit and promotion matter? It was the game itself he loved. . . .

As he obeyed his chief and returned directly to the summerhouse, Dundee realized, a little shame-facedly, that his horror over Doris's brutal murder was already giving way to the thrill of the chase to run down her murderer.

But tears for Doris had already begun to flow, Dundee discovered, as he neared the summerhouse. Wickett was dabbling at his eyes with a folded handkerchief, and Crosby wheeled, whipping out his own handkerchief from his retrieved dressing-gown, when he saw his fellow-guest approaching.

"The police will be here immediately," Dundee announced. "Captain Strawn in charge." To his relief, the name meant nothing to the butler. Undoubtedly Wickett had come to Hillcrest and the Berkeleys since the middle of July; otherwise, if Wickett took any interest in crime news at all, he must have seen Strawn's name daily in connection with the murders at the Rhodes House. Then Dundee remembered one of Mrs. Rhodes' quotations from the society page, in which August was mentioned as the date Mrs. Berkeley and Clorinda had returned from Europe. Probably the house had been closed for the summer; with luck, not even Dick Berkeley would remember that he—Dundee—had been "mixed up" in another sensational murder case.

But Wickett was speaking, tremulously: "Mr. Crosby and I have been talking about the poor girl in there, sir. You saw her for a moment last night yourself, sir. I'm sure you will agree with us that she was a—little darling, sir."

The expression fell strangely from the usually austere lips of the butler, and Dundee was touched to the heart. Here was sincere grief.

"Yes, she was a very beautiful girl," Dundee answered huskily. "You knew her, too, Mr. Crosby? I believe I heard you talking about her with Mrs. Lambert last night."

Seymour Crosby pocketed his handkerchief, but his somber brown eyes glistened with fresh tears as he answered uneasily: "Yes, I knew her very well indeed. She was my—wife's maid for several years. Phyllis—Mrs. Crosby—was extremely fond of little Doris, and so was I. But—if you'll forgive me, Mr. Dundee—I don't believe I can talk about her—yet." And he turned sharply away, to stare at the placid, silvery surface of the lake which had been Doris' very temporary grave.

"I understand," Dundee answered sympathetically, in the character of fellow-guest.

"Pardon me, sir," Wickett spoke. "I see a special delivery boy coming up the driveway. Perhaps I'd better go and sign for the letter, sir—"

"I'll go," Dundee interrupted. "I'm expecting a special delivery letter myself."

Luckily, he reached the back door before the boy had dismounted from his bicycle. As he had expected, the long, thick envelope was addressed to himself. He signed the slip, and was eagerly scanning the first of the newspaper clippings which the envelope contained before the boy was well away.

"These must be from the newspaper morgue," Dundee decided. "I'll have to be careful of them. Much better than the resume I asked for, Good old Strawn!"

No time to read them now, although he was keen to refresh his memory of the briefly sensational "Crosby case." Strawn and his men might arrive any minute, and his chief must not catch him disobeying orders. He thrust the envelope into the pocket of his dressing-gown, wished heartily for trousers, and walked slowly back to the summerhouse. If only he could get to work, make a thorough search of the summerhouse and the lake's edge for clues! But of course Strawn was right. As a guest in the Berkeley home, his profession unsuspected, he could be of infinite value to the police. He did manage, however, without being noticed by Crosby and the butler, who were talking together, to retrieve the crystal stopper, picking it up with his handkerchief, in which he wrapped it carefully before putting it into the pocket of his dressing-gown.

It was dreary waiting, with that still, wet body on the bench, and the odor of the perfume pouring over them, with every gust of the now brisk south wind. But at last the ordeal was ended. Three cars, with the initials "P. D." on their doors, swept up the driveway and curved round the house to the east. Climbing out of the first car, Captain Strawn apparently gave orders to his police retinue to sit tight and await further orders, for he was alone as he strode across the clipped green lawn.

"Well, the law is upon us, and I imagine I am in for the first grilling," Dundee said to Crosby, and, with a well-assumed air of resignation, went to meet his chief.

"Well, boy, what's the lay?" Strawn asked. "Any facts you did not tell me over the phone?"

Briefly, but omitting no essential detail, Dundee told of seeing Clorinda Berkeley steal out of the house the night before. . . . Dick Berkeley's proposed rendezvous with the murdered girl, and of Dick's absence from his room throughout the night.

"Hm!" Strawn considered, frowning. "Wonder if those two facts are connected? Suppose Clorinda knew, in some way, of the affair between her brother and the maid, had the same bright idea you did of preventing another meeting and a possibly messy scandal on the eve of her marriage to the society swell, sneaked out to argue with the girl and killed her during the quarrel that followed—her brother being present and then beating it in a panic?"

"Perhaps," Dundee conceded respectfully, "but—how did the flask of perfume get mixed up in it? Clorinda wasn't carrying it, I'm sure of that. Not in her hands, at least, for she had nothing in them but the scarf with which Doris's skirts were bound. And she was wearing one of those light, floating capes which don't have capacious pockets, I believe. Although the light was dim, I had a pretty clear picture of her as she descended the stairs and I could swear the cape wasn't weighted down at all—floating about her, in fact."

"Maybe the maid, Doris, had stolen the perfume," Strawn offered.

"I heard Mrs. Berkeley say last night that Doris hated perfume, that it gave her a sick headache to smell it," Dundee objected. "And although the stuff was expensive—worth $32 an ounce, according to Mrs. Berkeley—the crystal flask was valuable in itself. I can't somehow see Doris as a petty thief. Also, why should she take it with her on a rendezvous with her mistress' son?"

"By me!" Strawn shrugged. "But you yourself say she was killed with the perfume flask, or at least stunned with a blow which broke the flask before she was dumped into the lake. I'll be up to the corner to determine the cause of death, and I suppose he'd better get busy as soon as he arrives. . . . Now, one other thing. Young Berkeley hasn't returned, I suppose?"

"Not that I know of. He wasn't in his room, as I told you, when I went in to arouse him for the swimming party. I haven't been up since the murder was discovered. You told me to stay on the scene of the crime."

"Right!" Strawn agreed. "But now at the risk of Crosby's thinking you are too thick with the police, I want to go and have another look in his room. Take care not to spread the alarm, however, and if young Berkeley's there, have him come to the summerhouse immediately. . . . By the way, whose idea was the swimming party, anyway?"

"Georgina Berkeley's," Dundee answered curtly. "They call her Gigi. She's only a kid—15."

"Then I suppose that lets her out," Strawn conceded. "She'd hardly invite a party down to see what she'd done, then obligingly discover the body herself. Unless there's something in that old saying about a criminal returning to the scene of the crime. . . . Hey, boy! Keep your shirt on! I'm not accusing anyone—yet! But in a case like this you've got to think of everything. Now get along with you!"

THE TINYMITES

STORY BY HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES BY KING

The man who owned the farm was proud and he explained to all the crowd that all around through Denmark there were farms of every size. Said he, "Our people use the land to grow both flowers and food-stuffs grand. If you could see some of the spots 'twould open up your eyes."

"Why, even when we live in town, we do the gardening stunt up brown. Why let the good soil go to waste when wondrous things will grow? When you return to your home land, make all your good friends understand that gardening is quite a stunt. They'll all be glad to know."

"Now, if you're hungry, help yourself. There's lots of bread in the shelf. Just cut some. There pick vegetables and make a sandwich fine." The Tiniest thought that this was great and so they didn't hesitate. In just a moment, to the bread shelf there was quite a line.

The Travel Man soon said, "Well we must on our merry travels be."

And so they bid the farmer man a very kind good bye. "Where are we going now?" said one. "I hope it's where we'll have some fun." The Travel Man replied, "To find a big boat we will try."

"We're leaving Denmark. Yes, siree! In Norway we'll shortly be." And he was right. They reached a boat and quickly sailed away. In Oslo, Norway, they soon docked and all the Tiniest quickly flocked out to the shore. "A brand new land!" cried Scouty. "Hip, huray!"

Then through the streets they slowly went. An hour or so was time well spent. They finally reached a market spot and stayed around for hours. Queer carts were standing here and there and wondrous perfume filled the air. It was the place where Norway folks were selling wondrous flowers.

EVENING SALUTATION

Words without actions are the assassins

—President Hoover.

THE JOKE ON SENATOR FESS

Senator Fess, of Ohio, is a very serious man. He has never gotten over being a schoolmaster. His constituents write to him, and like a schoolmaster, he writes back, admonishing them that the schoolmaster knows more than his pupils, and therefore must be trusted to know all that there is to be known. One of his constituents who wrote to him recently on the matter of the Parker nomination for the Supreme Court received a patronizing letter from the Senator, suggesting that if he knew as much as he, the Senator, knew he would approve of his wisdom in all matters.

The constituent wrote back, "You're just as baldheaded inside as you are outside."

But the greatest joke on the serious Senator was played by a member of the Cleveland City Club, who occupies a seat at what is called the Soviet table, a group of political liberals. In collusion with the others at the table, he wrote the Senator the following letter on a postal card:

Honorable Sir: I think all Americans will feel grateful to you in your fine efforts to keep the Stars and Stripes floating over our government, especially the Senate.

We Americans have surely scaled the highest peaks of culture.

I am trying to take the fullest advantage of the wonderful cultural advantages offered. I spend three nights a week with my radio; two nights and two afternoons at the talkies and one night with the plays of Eugene O'Neill and the Van Dyne stories. I feel that I am a real rugged individualist.

I am so fascinated with my work. Although I am only required to put 2500 bolts on autos a day, I am often able to do 2650. And I have only a plain high school education.

You are doing a great work for America.

With that lack of the sense of humor which is well-known to all his colleagues in the Senate, the Senator bit, and wrote the following letter in reply:

You have more real American patriotic sentiment and sound sense on the postal card you have written me than I have seen in the same space for many a day.

I want to thank you most heartily for writing me. What you say is so splendid that I am going to read it to the Senate if the opportunity is given.

Senator Fess's letter has become one of the choice treasures of the City Club of Cleveland. The serious Senator, who is always regular, will not soon hear the end of it among his colleagues. But there the joke is, embalmed forever in the pages of the Congressional Record, at the request of the Senator himself.

How the weather man might forecast Mussolini's administration: "A torrential reign, followed by heavy winds."

MORE NICE PACKAGES

One of the marked features in recent years has been the tendency to pack goods in attractive boxes and packages. For confirmation of that, one has but to see the artistic boxes which contain the candies designed for Mother's Day, and other seasonal days. Eggs are put in neat cartons, dates are packed in beautiful packages, butter is neatly put in pound packages. Bacon is packed in glass jars and in packages, all neatly sliced, and ready to be broiled. Hams are put up in cans. This has been going on for some time.

But now a large packing firm is preparing choice cuts of fresh meats, neatly wrapped and accurately weighed, to be sold directly to the consumer. A concern in New York has just opened a most elegant establishment for the sale of such cuts. The rooms are fitted up like an exclusive jewelry store. There are rugs on the floors, draperies on the windows, and appropriate paintings on the wall.

Surely, we Americans are an ingenious people. We spare no expense to make our food look attractive and appetizing, whether it be in containers or pictured in advertisements. Butter seems to taste better from a neat package than from the tub. Candy weighed out on the scales and put in a paper bag may be just as good; but no young man would present candy in a paper bag to a young lady. Now it has come to pass, when we want to entertain company with a fine steak, we shall order it in a package from a place where oriental rugs are on the floor, and draperies on the windows. On we move.

ANOTHER STATESMAN LIFTED OUT OF OBSCURITY

We are glad to call attention to a new biography of Rutherford B. Hayes in the series of "American Political Leaders," by H. J. Eckenrode. Like the case of Andrew Johnson, it is another example of belated justice. Andrew Johnson had to wait over sixty years for his vindication. Rutherford B. Hayes had had to wait equally long to be appreciated for the great work he did as President of the United States.

President Hayes came to the presidency with a clouded title. If there was any fraud in making him president, he had no part in it, and he did not even know of it. The author of this biography believes that Gen. Hayes was entitled to the vote of Florida, but not of Louisiana nor South Carolina. That is to say that he was never fairly elected. Yet, despite this, he believes it was a good thing for the country that Tilden was not declared elected. President Hayes ended the turmoil of the Reconstruction period. His removal of the Federal troops from the South immediately reunited the country. His work for Civil Service Reform bill was the beginning of better government in this country.

When the bitterness of that period has been forgotten, and the work of President Hayes is fully appraised, we shall find that his occupancy of the White House was one of the great blessings of the country. Tilden was an unknown factor. As a Democrat, he could not have done what Hayes did, because as a Democrat, he would have been charged with playing with the former enemies of the Union. It is gratifying how those who have long been held in dishonor in American history, or those who were destined for an endless obscurity, have come back, and we at last discover that they made a real contribution to American life.

Every time people kiss, a doctor says, they shorten their lives by two minutes. And judging from some of the closeups we have seen on the screen it is a wonder why some movie folk don't drop dead.

PENNSYLVANIA PRIMARIES AGAIN

As the votes have finally come in throughout the state of Pennsylvania in the gubernatorial fight there, it has been found that former Governor Pinchot, a "bone-dry" candidate running as an independent against the machine organization of Vare, has won the nomination, receiving as a total, according to present reports, 617,443 votes. The candidate of Vare, although claiming to be "dry" was not so pronouncedly so as Pinchot. He received 604,342 votes. The out and out "wet" candidate for Governor received 234,000.

Former Governor Pinchot, as a "dry" received four and a half times as many votes as there were straw votes recorded from the state of Pennsylvania in the Literary Digest poll. We are beginning to think that not only was the Literary Digest wrong in its deductions, but it was fraudulent as well. We noted the other day that from a certain city, where 42 ministers were recorded as having voted "dry" according to the poll, with 38 for modification and 234 for repeal, a check-up was made among the ministers of the leading denominations. It was found that 107 had received a Literary Digest ballot, and 84 had returned it with a vote in favor of enforcement. In any case, the way the ministers had voted was almost opposite from the way they were announced to have voted.

It was the great circulation campaign of the Literary Digest, but if it keeps on, we will have to conclude that it was done entirely in the interest of those opposed to prohibition.

Republicanism in Spain

Christian Science Monitor

The chief point about the republican agitation in Spain—definitely seen now as an issue between republicanism and monarchism—is that it is being conducted by the intellectual elite. To describe it as a popular movement would be to outrun the fact. Monarchy has deep roots in the Iberian Peninsula, and while the people like to talk politics they are not easily shaken from their relative apathy.

But the minority which is really active is precisely that minority which no institution, however venerable it may be, however solid it may appear, can afford to have in opposition. Thinking Spain, progressive Spain, has definitely declared itself against kingship. In the universities the professors—some of them universally known and universally respected, such as Miguel de Unamuno—are aggressively republican. The students follow their lead, and although it is not always wise to attach great importance to the noisy ebullitions of students, in this case the antagonism to the monarchy is so widespread, so continuous, and so daring, that it cannot be dismissed as the outcome of youthful exuberance.

Intellectuals may often be voices crying in the wilderness, but when their voices are echoed by the politicians it is time to take serious notice. General Berenguer is obviously puzzled. When he took the place of Primo de Rivera he certainly allowed much more liberty of political expression, but the result of this release was a series of pronouncements against the King. In particular Sanchez Guerra made his attack, and General Berenguer saw fit again to impose a censorship. But gradually the ban is being lifted and prominent politicians are joining the republicans.

As an organized force the republicans labor under two difficulties. The first is that they possess no outstanding and unquestionable political leader. The second is that they are divided among themselves. "Divide-and-rule" is a sound working motto, and the task of General Berenguer is rendered easier by the lack of unity among the politicians.

Meanwhile the promised elections are delayed, and it would appear that their date may be remote. Spain may not have a C. de C. until next year. Doubtless this is not due to bad faith on the part of General Berenguer, for there are genuine technical difficulties in the revision of the electoral census. Any gerrymandering, or even the absence of proper electoral lists brought up to date, would only arouse further discontent. But, while awaiting the election, Spain finds itself under a mitigated dictatorship, and the feeling is strong that Spaniards must never again be deprived of their political liberty.

Poetess Leads Revolt

Oakland Tribune

In India the philosopher Gandhi is in jail and the poetess, Sarojini Naidu is his successor as leader of the revolt. She is the same writer and social worker who visited America a year ago and spoke before crowds in Oakland and other California cities.

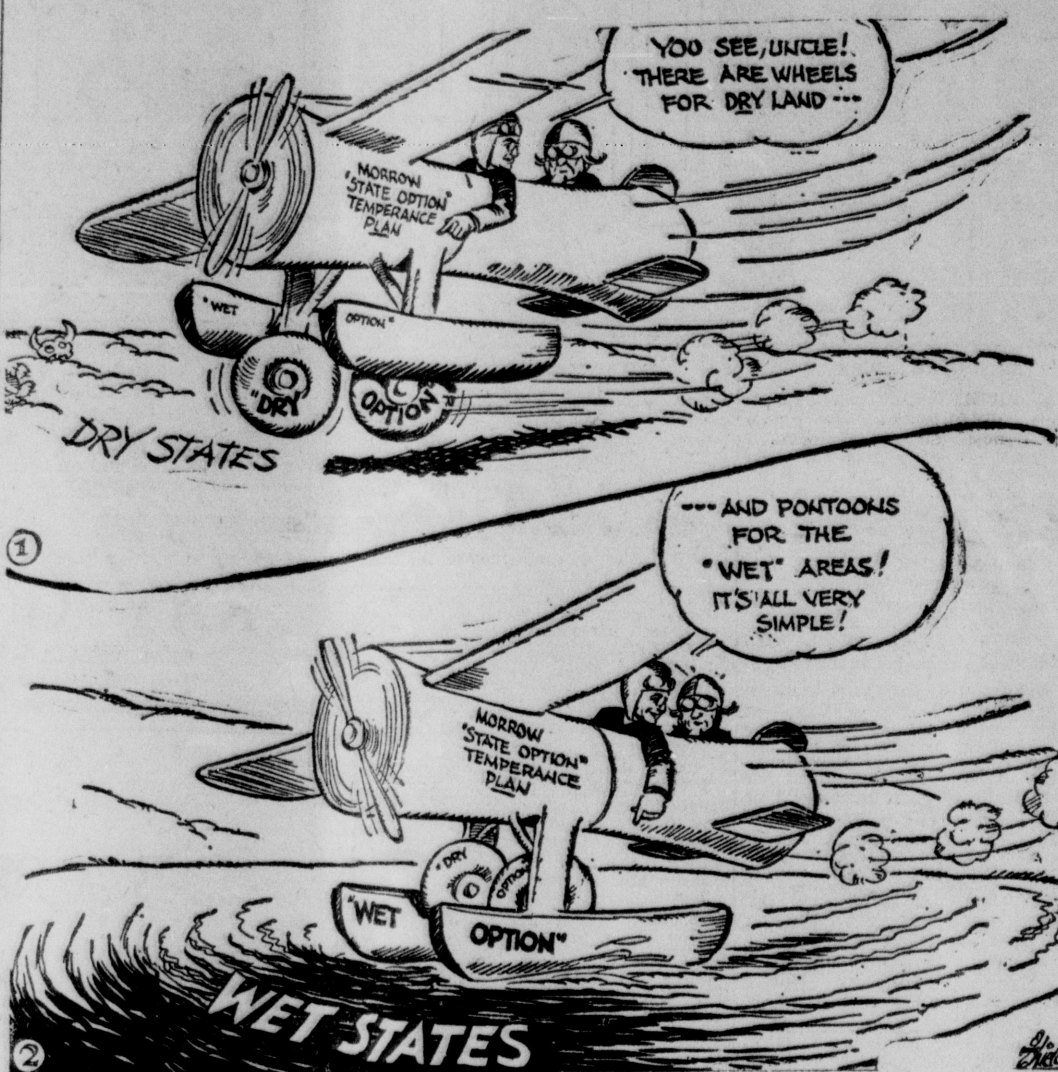

Those who heard her, and those who know her poetry, may find it difficult to picture her as the head of the movement which is threatening a war in India. They are wondering if, like Gandhi and Abbas Tyabji, she is to be put behind the stone walls and who, then, will take the mantle and lift the voice for the Hindu.

Not so long ago Sarojini Naidu was asking her brothers to "rise" not to overthrow the British government in India, but to capture the fish of the sea. Her "Coramandel Fishers," says Ben Hur Lampman of Portland, denied the easy assumption that there is a wide and forbidding gulf between people of alien race and pigment.

Rise, brothers, rise! The wakening skies away to the morning light.
The wind lies asleep in the arms of the dawn like a child that has cried all night.
Come, let us gather our nets from the shore, and set our catamarans free,
To capture the leaping wealth of the tide, for we are the sons of the sea.

Daughter of a high caste Bengali Brahmin, educator, Sarojini Naidu has been an exceptionally brilliant scholar. Some changes which have come in India have made possible her emergence from seclusion until she is a favorite poet, translated into many languages, and a recognized leader. In many ways she is even more interesting than the poetess Gandhi. As Gandhi's successor she is a problem to England for it is not easy to arrest a favorite poet and a woman.

NOT MUCH HELP

Each day the paper mentions
New cars, new ships, new planes,
And other great inventions
To save our backs and brains.
Men daily ease our labors
Devising something new
To save ourselves and neighbors
The work we used to do.

A great electric hammer
Relieves the blacksmith's arm,
And with prodigious clamor
A motor tills the farm.
Our houses to the attics
Require but little toil,
They're tidied by pneumatics
And lighted without oil.

Machines make bread and butter,
Machines make jam and cheese.
Machines sweep out the gutter
And trim the garden trees.
They save the population
A deal of elbow grease,
And bring to every nation
Miraculous release.

With joy we ought to chorus,
When each new day reveals
How much is now done for us
By gadgets, cams and wheels,
Yet in my poor endeavor
My daily work to do,
I toil as hard as ever
My grand dad did. Don't you?

Is It Safe to Work?

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

One and a half million years may not seem a long time to the newly-discovered planet. For all we know, that may be merely the years of its adolescence. But one and a half million years seems a long time to us.

Anyway, it is too much time to waste. Yet every year adults in the United States waste fully as much time as that on account of accidents. Believe it or not, the Travelers Insurance Company has just figured that out.

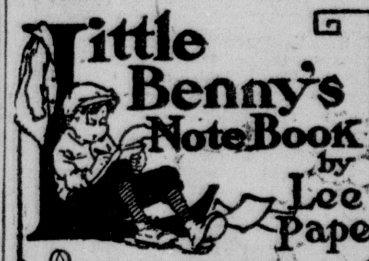

Motor vehicles accidents alone last year caused the death of five times the number killed in both armies during the battle of Gettysburg. Year in and year out, as a matter of fact, the casualties in the battlefield of industry exceed those of war.

The time lost last year by persons hurt in occupational mishaps, when computed at the average wage income, represents more than a billion dollars.

Are these industrial accidents necessary? Not at all necessary, says Professor Edison L. Bowers. They are preventable, he insists, in at least 75 per cent of the cases. And he has just written a book to prove it. The book is called "Is It Safe to Work?" issued by the Pollak Foundation for Economic Research, Newton, Mass.

In this book, Professor Bowers proposes definite, practical measures for preventing accidents, and for reducing the labor-time lost on account of accidents which are NOT preventable. He does not use his professorial right to theorize. He stays on rock bottom. He shows how to prevent the loss to adults in industry of at least a million years out of the Travelers' computed one and a half million.

Sadly morning me and Puds
Simkins wawked out to the park for something to do, and 2 ladies was sitting on 2 stools painting 2 pictures of the trees and things.
Proving they was artists, one having red hair and freckles, and the other one just having freckles, the red-head one saying, "O, look at those 2 boys, we must get them in the picture, their just the tips,
you know what Professor Dibbey says, he says a landscape
without a human touch is a landscape without a sole. Wouldnt you 2 boys like to stand under that big tree and look up as though you saw a birds nest or something?" she sed.

G, they went us to be reel artist models, Puds sed.
And we got under the tree and
kepp on looking up like she sed, being all rite for a little while and then starting to get monotonous,
especially in the neck,
Puds whispering to me, Hay, lets servise them and change our position.
And the next time the 2 ladies looked up they had a intirely
diffrent view on account of me and Puds both being bent away over looking at them between our knees, the red headed one saying,
Now come come, boys, that izent nice, take your poses like good boys.

Wich we did, like regular artist models, ony the next time they both had their heads down we both quick ducked in back of the tree, and when they looked up again
all they could see was our heads sticking out on each side with funny expressions, the one without red hair saying, How ridiculous, now do you think thats funny?

Me and Puds starting to laff like anything. Proving we did, and the 2 ladies wouldnt leave us be artist models any more and we kepp on wawking, and every time we thawt about how funny it was we giggled like anything, being about once a minnit for a half hour.

Thoughts On Modern Life

By GLENN FRANK

THE PRIEST OF THE MACHINE

Oswald Spengler has called the engineer the priest of the machine. A priest is supposed to be concerned with safeguarding the supremacy of spiritual values in a material world.

The critics of our machine civilization think the engineer is taking his priesthood too lightly and is too rather than friend of spiritual values.

The engineer has given his critics some ground for their skepticism of his priesthood.

But the modern engineer is awakening to his priestly responsibility. Listen, if you do not believe it, to the editor of the London Engineer as he exhorts his colleagues:

"We (engineers) must not say, if you want railroads and motor cars, you must put up with the noise; if you want steel and coal, you must sacrifice a whole countryside to fill and ugliness; if you want cheap electricity, you must poison with ashes and sulphur the air of your cities."

"That was the attitude of the past; it will be intolerable in the near future."

"We must have the products which the engineer, and the engineer alone, can give, but they must be so purified from all offense that they can live side by side with less material, but perhaps not less important cravings of civilized people. "We are convinced that to the engineer all things are possible. "He can give us a pure air and noiseless streets."

"He can remove slums and make wholesome factories."

"He can wipe away degrading occupations and improve the occupations of leishure."

"He can make a fair country out of a blasted waste and clean rivers out of foul ditches."

"All these things, and a thousand more, he can do without robbing us of a single one of the benefits and advantages which his works confer."

"We say this with confidence, because we witness all that he has achieved."

"But a vast amount remains to be done, a mountain of ugliness remains to be moved, and we deem it a good thing that the coming generation of engineers should grow up in the belief that it is the duty of engineers to make the countries in which they live more beautiful and more pleasant and wholly free from the taunts which artists, literary men and philosophers may justly throw at them today."

We are watching here the birth throes of the priesthood of the engineer—

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

TRYING CHILDREN

The best trained child is likely to rise up some morning and make us wonder if he has not been changed in the night. Gone is the amiable child of our love and in its stead is a whining, irritable, selfish child who demands our entire time and attention and is not satisfied with even that. What is the matter?

We are mistaken when we think the change arrived in the night. It stole over the child slowly as a shadow creeps over the grass. All of a sudden it is there and because we had not noted its coming we think it a revolutionary change. It is really a matter of growth.

Perhaps it is physical growth gone wrong. Sometimes a child's teeth will give great pain and uneasiness and the child, scarce knowing what is wrong, complains and clings. Or it may be that the diet is wrong. Any number of things may be going wrong and the best thing to do is to ask a child specialist to look the troublesome child over and try to find what ails him.

It may be that the home training has been inadequate. You see a little child changes rapidly as his body grows. Every day sees a little advance over its yesterday. We, so busy with our thousand and one cares, have not noticed, have not kept step with the child's growth. We are still treating the child as a six-months' baby when he is a twelve-months' child. That is a source of trouble.

Diet, health, habits, self help, self reliance, outside interests, all must be fostered in the little child according to his growth. If we overlook the phase of growth and do not supply it with what it needs to stimulate and guide mental growth and consequent power of body and mind, we make a mistake and rue it when it comes home to us in the form of the trying, troublesome child.

There is a time to teach a child to play by itself; to use its own toys; to help itself. If we keep on helping the child long after it is able to help itself, if we thwart its efforts to help itself because we are too impatient, because we think we have not time to wait, we are going to be sorry because when the child is older he will still be thinking he is an infant. His thought of himself is set by what he knows of himself.

If he is allowed to believe that he is helpless, dependent, a baby, he is not to blame of, when he is four and five years old, ready by time standard and physical standards for school, he is but the two year old baby dependent upon his mother. Begin early to let the child grow by personal experience.

Little children must have other children to play with or they will make their mothers' lives unbearable. Grownup people cannot be satisfying companions for little children. That is another cause for troublesome children. Training companionship, outdoor play, good diet, long sleep, healthy letting alone—and the troublesome child will not belong to you.

WAGNER'S BIRTH
On May 22, 1813, Wilhelm Richard Wagner, the originator of the music drama, and one of the greatest of musical geniuses, was born in Leipzig.

Influenced as a boy by his readings in Shakespeare, Wagner, at the age of 14, wrote a four-act tragedy. Later, falling under the spell of the music of Weber and Beethoven, he decided he would learn music so that he could compose a piece for his tragedy.

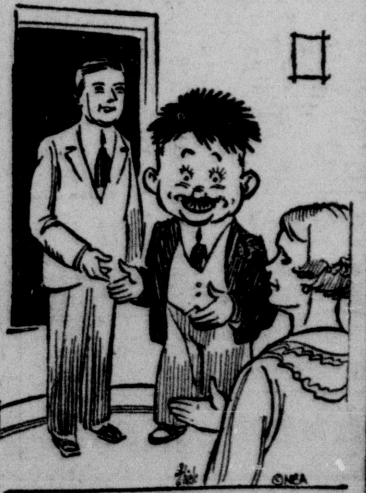

In 1833, at the age of 20, he became a professional musician, accepting the post of chorus master at Wurzburg. He diligently occupied himself writing librettos, but few of them sold. Impoverished as he was, he married Minna Planer, an actress. When they went to England soon after their marriage Wagner got inspiration for his "Flying Dutchman" in the tempestuous channel crossing. But this, and his subsequent Tannhauser, were not cordially received.

Wagner ultimately became friends with Liszt who helped him in times of need, and encouraged him to compose. Later Wagner took for his second wife his friend's daughter, Cosima Liszt, who died only recently. Wagner himself lived to see his works finally acclaimed.
